Menon Gets Full Backing From Nehru

Parliament Told Defense Command Same Despite Rift

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today that India's defense command is continuing unchanged despite a rift between Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon and Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, the army commander.

Nehru said Thimayya had resigned Monday in a dispute over the promotion of an army officer but had withdrawn his resignation at the Prime Minister's request.

The Prime Minister gave full backing to Krishna Menon, long one of his closest and most controversial advisers on foreign policy.

"Civil authority must remain supreme," Nehru declared.

This appeared to put at rest reports that Krishna Menon would be removed from the Cabinet or shifted to another post. Nehru gave no indication that the defense minister had offered to resign, as high sources in the ruling Congress party has reported.

Nehru rebuked Thimayya for resigning at a time when India's borders were in a state of anxiety.

Thimayya has been commander of the army since May 1957.

The Prime Minister made no mention of the commanders of the air force and navy, who had been reported resigning with Thimayya.

Reports of Thimayya's resignation had caused grave concern because of the occupation by Chinese Communist troops of various bits of Indian territory along the border between Tibet and India. Krishna Menon had refused to confirm or deny the reports in Parliament.

The newspaper The Statesman reported meanwhile that the situation on the Northeast Frontier appeared to have eased and said the Chinese possibly had moved away from border outposts they captured last week.

Bhutan's Premier Jigme Dorji denied in Calcutta that Chinese Communist troops had crossed the Bhutanese border. He said the situation in his country was quiet and no fresh incidents have been reported. Dorji is on his way to New Delhi for talks with Nehru.

India faced more difficulties on the home front, with rioting in Calcutta in protest against the Bengal state government's food distribution policies. Communists led the mobs, and there was speculation they were intensifying the trouble in revenge for the central government's ousting of the Communist regime in Kerala state.

Red-led arson and bomb squads seized control of main sections of Calcutta Tuesday night and fought off police counterattacks for a time. Police reported killing 7 and wounding at least 30 with gunfire.

7 Die, 30 Hurt During Riots In India City

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Calcutta's streets were littered with glass today following savage rioting late Tuesday in which seven persons were killed and 30 hurt.

Street cars and buses were not running. Many of the vehicles were burned by rioters protesting the Bengal state government's food policies.

No new incidents were reported today.

Violence erupted in various parts of the city Tuesday after clashes between police and a procession of 10,000 students. They were protesting the use of clubs and tear gas Monday to disperse food agitators.

The food campaign, launched by the Communist-sponsored Price Increase and Famine Resistance Committee, has been described by the government as a Red reaction to the dismissal of the Communist government in Kerala State.

The state government claims the price of food grains is no higher than in other states.

Communists and other left-wing parties allege that the government's recent withdrawal of a food price control order helped hoarders and put prices beyond the reach of the poor man.

Fire Destroys Mansion

ALLAMUCHY, N.J. (AP)—Fire Tuesday destroyed the 42-room Peter Stuyvesant mansion near here, once inhabited by descendants of the Dutch colonial governor of New York.

FILM CAREER HOPES END. Marjorie Lenore Bennett (right), 14, believes if you are unhappy you should do something about it and she did. With a savings of $75 she and her 5-year-old brother, Roland, left their Washington, Pa., home and headed for Hollywood. Bus fare, a few hamburgers and magazines quickly depleted the funds, however, and a film career Marjorie was hoping for came to a sudden halt at Juvenile Hall in Los Angeles. (UPI Telephoto)

Victors At Los Angeles

VFW Team Again National Champs

The national championship drill team of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66 did it again at Los Angeles Tuesday night —winning the tropy two times in a row.

But it wasn't easy. The squad was rated 92.6 points with its snappy drills, with the Wayne (Mich.) team a close second and separated by only 1.4 points. The Michiganders scored 91.2.

Michigan had tried before but the East Liverpool post's team scored a clean win for the national title at New York last year and it already has five Ohio championships under its collective belt, also consecutive.

The city team was the first ever to defend its championship successfully in national competition. About 20 units competed.

The team might be called the "Golden Boys" as they faced and met two serious problems when convention plans first were launched.

There was lack of money for expenses of the trip and for new uniforms — the post treasury is none too fat—and precision drills that pleased the judges last year would have to be honed sharp for the new bid—other drill teams also were getting better.

Long and arduous practice polished up the drills to perfection. But the money was something else.

The new uniforms were necessary because the team was penalized half a point for its appearance during the state competition in June.

The team grabbed the rifle by the trigger and fired up the public with an appeal for help. Gifts of money from individuals, groups and business people trickled in. But nearly $1,000 was needed for the 13-man squad, led by Al Sayre, commander.

Members donned their colorful uniforms and stationed themselves on downtown corners where $250 more was collected in a Tag Day. With only a week to go. the team raised the remaining $700 with further solicitations and events and took off Friday for the West Coast.

The convention ends Thursday with a parade in which the champs will march. They are expected to return home by plane sometime Friday.

President Host At Dinner

Ike Has Happy Reunion With Wartime Comrades

LONDON (AP)—President Eisenhower had a happy reunion in a reminiscing atmosphere Tuesday night with British comrades of World War II.

The President was a laughing, joking host, quickly putting at rest any tenseness that might have been felt by those of the guests who have criticized his war strategy in their memoirs.

By coincidence, the stag dinner was held on the 20th anniversary of the German invasion of Poland, which set off World War II.

Eisenhower cordially greeted Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, whose critical comments nettled Eisenhower so much that he snubbed a card from Montgomery last Christmas.

When the evening was over, Montgomery left beaming and waving enthusiastically to a cheering crowd outside Winfield House, the residence of U. S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney where the dinner was held.

At dinner Montgomery sat within talking range of Eisenhower, just five feet across the table. What was said during the meal was not disclosed.

But Eisenhower was in high spirits and in no mood to raise past antagonisms.

He placed in an honored seat at his left Field Marshal Viscount Alanbrooke, who also has had a few criticisms of his wartime leadership. Alanbrooke was Britain's top commander during the war.

Field Marshal Earl Alexander, commander of Allied ground forces in North Africa and later in Italy during the war, sat at Eisenhower's right.

Wearing dinner jacket and black tie, the President greeted each of the 25 British guests at the door.

The President put his hand under 84-year-old Sir Winston Churchill's elbow and led the party into a large foyer for a group picture.

Half Million Cheer Ike On His Arrival In Paris

President's Veto Faces Severe Test

House Slates Vote Of Big 'Pork Barrel' Appropriations Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The invincibility of President Eisenhower's vetoes faces an acid test today when the House votes on whether to knock down the veto of the big "pork barrel" appropriations bill.

Congress never has overriden an Eisenhower veto. There have been 144 of them in 6 ½ years.

House Democratic leaders claimed it would be different this time. They said they had the votes to override.

The $1,215,477,808 appropriation bill provides financing for several hundred public works projects in just about every congressional district. Most of them are river and harbor and flood control jobs. For years it has been known as the "pork barrell" bill and has been a congressional favorite because of its popularity in the home districts.

President Eisenhower vetoed it last week because it provided funds for 67 projects in 32 states for which his budget program had made no provision. It exceeded his money requests by about 30 million dollars.

Seven of Eisenhower's direct or indirect vetoes have come this year.

It takes a two-thirds vote of members present to override a veto and enact a law over the President's objection.

The House, as originator of the bill, gets first crack at the "pork barrel" measure. If it fails to muster the two-thirds vote, the bill will go to the Senate.

Confident House Democratic leaders figured on losing few, if any, of the 283 Democratic votes and on picking up quite a few Republican ballots.

Republican leaders pitched their plea to their 153 members on party loyalty and "fiscal responsibility." Some of them had urged the President not to veto the bill because it involves projects in many Republican districts and might adversely affect the political future of GOP incumbents.

Pathet, Red Troops Seize 4 Laos Towns

SAM NEUA, Laos (AP)—Pathet Lao battalions, supported by regular troops from Communist North Viet Nam, launched a coordinated attack in northeastern Sam Neua Sunday and captured four towns.

The outnumbered government forces are drawing back on a 35-mile front toward military headquarters here.

The attack along the Nam Ma River was at one point supported by 105 mm howitzers evidently fired from inside North Viet Nam, Laotian officers said.

Pathet Lao is a Communist organization which ruled this province in northern Laos until two years ago.

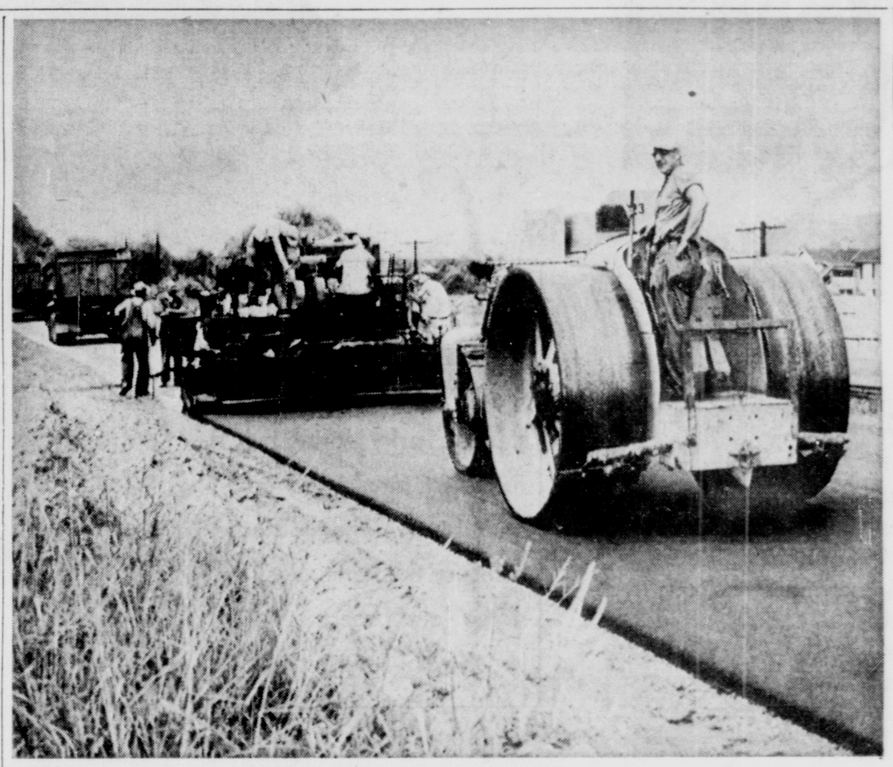

Brig. Gen. Ouane Rathikone, Laotian army commander, said it appeared that at least 80 per cent of the attackers were Vietminh (North Vietnamese) or Thai tribesmen trained in North Viet Nam.

The government troops were reported falling back to a defense line between the Nam Ma River and Sam Neua town.

The commander in northern Laos, Brig. Gen. Amkha Soukhavong, estimated there are now the equivalent of two Pathet Lao battalions inside Sam Neua province.

The Nam Ma River villages, garrisoned mainly by government irregulars, fell in less than one hour, reports said. There were no radios in any of the captured villages.

NEW SURFACE FOR ROUTE 66. Work is progressing rapidly on resurfacing Route 66—Hancock County's connecting road between Newell and New Cumberland. The Tri-State Asphalt Co. started work on the $150,000 project Tuesday and had blacktopped one side from south of Newell to beyond Waterford Park as of noon today. The 6.4 mile project is expected to be completed within 3 weeks if fair weather prevails. Trucks are hauling mix from the firm's Weirton plant. Tri-State, of Martins Ferry, has 85 days in which to complete the project, according to West Virginia State Road officials in Moundsville.

Big 4 Rubber Firms, Union Reach Accord

Goodyear's Pattern Quickly Followed In 10-Cent Hike

CLEVELAND (AP) — The 82,000 production workers of the rubber industry's Big Four producers will receive 10 cents an hour more under new agreements reached between the companies and the United Rubber Workers.

Minus the bickering involved in costly strikes last spring, both sides agreed to terms in unusually quick fashion.

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. set the pattern Monday night, agreeing to the 10-cent hourly wage increase after two weeks of bargaining.

The U.S. Rubber Co., meeting with the union in Cincinnati, granted the same increase Tuesday. Within hours, B. F. Goodrich Co. and Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. announced similar agreements. Goodrich, meeting in Canton, Ohio, and Firestone, which met here, negotiated with the union just one day.

The wage pacts, effective immediately, must be ratified by individual locals.

Agreement on the master contracts came only after the biggest strike in URW history—the walkout lasted two months at Firestone. Goodyear was the only one of the Big Four which did not experience a strike.

Talks Resume In 50-Day-Old Steel Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations in the 50-day-old nationwide steel strike resumed here today after a recess since last Thursday.

There was no indication of any break in the deadlock.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, heads the mediators sitting in on the negotiations.

The strike by 500,000 members of the United Steelworkers Union of America has shut almost 90 per cent of the nation's steel production. An estimated 150,000 employes in allied industries have been made idle by the strike.

The union is seeking a substantial wage increase and other benefits. The latest word from the union president, David J. McDonald, was that the union no longer had any specific contract demand on the bargaining table. Prestrike earnings averaged $3.11 an hour.

Schuck To Die For 2 Killings, Court Orders

Arthur G. Schuck, 42, of Economy must die in the electric chair at Western State Penitentiary at Rockview for the "mistaken identity" killing of two men from ambush in April 1958, Judge Morgan Sohn ruled late this morning in Beaver County Court at Beaver.

The date for Schuck's execution will be set by Gov. David Lawrence, the court's order provides. At the same time, Judge Sohn granted a petition from defense attorneys to have the convicted double killer examined by a sanity commission. The judge remarked that the Pennsylvania State Supreme Court has ruled that no person may be executed if he is insane at the time.

Schuck was convicted last September of first degree murder by a jury that recommended the death penalty in the slaying of William Engle and Vincent Quigley. The prosecution charged that Schuck fired at the two men from ambush, using a high-powered rifle. The state contended he was lying in wait to attempt to kill two other persons.

Schuck appeared gay and happy as he was brought before the judge for sentencing. The sentencing date was set July 31 after a motion for a new trial was overruled.

The date of the execution probably will not be set until after defense attorneys make the usual final appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Khrushchev Address To Congress Unlikely

WASHINGTON (AP)—The odds are heavily against Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev addressing Congress. But there is a slight possibility he may talk informally with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The committee possibility arose Tuesday when Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman, reported he had discussed the subject with the State Department.

No decision has been reached, Fulbright said, but indications are that Khrushchev's schedule on his visit to the United States may be too crowded for a meeting with the committee.

In any event, it appears certain that Khrushchev will not address a joint session of Congress. First of all, Congress has shown no inclination to invite him. And Khrushchev has shown no inclination to accept an invitation if it were made.

So far the Soviet Premier has scheduled four major addresses during his visit, including a nationwide television address from the National Broadcasting Co. studio here Sept. 27.

IBOP Group Seeks Vote On New Quarters

Mass Meeting Set Over Union Plans For Rural Structure

A rank-and-file committee has scheduled a "mass meeting" tonight at 8 in Council Chambers of City Hall to push ahead with its plans to seek a vote of the trade on a proposal to erect a new $342,015 headquarters building for the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

Frank Duffy of Holliday St., who has acted as chairman of the committee, said all local unions in the East Liverpool area have been asked to send representatives. Although IBOP officials never have revealed officially the proposed site of the new headquarters, the committee said opposition to the plan has developed principally because of reports it will be erected along Route 7 near the Beaver Local High School and Public School.

Duffy, a turner at the Harker Pottery Co., said the IBOP Constitution provides that a referendum can be held on such a question if petitions requesting the vote are presented by eight local unions.

One of the main aims of tonight's meeting is to seek to require IBOP officials to publish in the Potters Herald, the official union newspaper, notices of local union meetings to act on resolutions asking a referendum, Duffy said.

He declared that the IBOP officials so far have declined to publish notices of the meetings, as must be done before such special meetings can be held.

"We will insist on inserting the notices and if they don't we will appeal to the (executive) board or take whatever other action is necessary," Duffy said. Duffy is a former president of Trades and Labor Council and a brother of James

Bliss Strike Settled By Contract Extension

SALEM — An extension to the contract between the E. W. Bliss Co. and Local 3372 of the United Steelworkers was inked at 7:10 Tuesday night, ending a one-day strike at the local Rolling Mill Division plant.

Representatives of the company and the Canton union are meeting this afternoon in an attempt to end the one-day strike there. Two Bliss plants in Pennsylvania have been on strike since July 31.

The extension agreement, which was approved by the union membership yesterday afternoon, expires 30 days after the settlement of the basic steel industry strike now in its 50th day.

French Chief Greets Him At Airport

Two Leaders Open Conferences After Big Parade In City

PARIS (AP)—President Eisenhower made a happy and triumphal entry into Paris today, riding beside his wartime comrade Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Crowds estimated at half a million jammed the center of the city, cheering and shouting as the World War II leaders drove past in an open car, on their way to conferences crucial to the Western Alliance.

It was a greeting reminiscent of the day in 1944 when Eisenhower was cheered as liberator of Paris. Officials and newsmen said the turnout appeared greater than that for Eisenhower's arrival in London.

Eisenhower is the first American president to pay a state visit to France since Woodrow Wilson came after World War I.

And France greeted him with all the pomp and ceremony she could muster—a booming 101-gun salute, blaring bands and a squadron of 64 white-gloved motorcycle escorts flanking the presidential car.

A rainbow of red, white and blue blanketed Le Bourget Airport, where Eisenhower landed after a 55-minute jet flight from London.

From the moment of their reunion at the airport, Eisenhower and De Gaulle exchanged warm and animated conversation although both are awkward in the other's language.

They got down to business just after noon at a luncheon conference at De Gaulle's Elysee Palace.

There were 29 guests at the luncheon, among them Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The President's big jetliner touched down from London in bright sunshine. The wide balconies of flag-draped Le Bourget Airport were jammed with enthusiastic greeters who cheered the President's plane.

President Charles de Gaulle stepped forward to greet Eisenhower with a warm handshake as the President stepped from the plane, smiling and waving his hat.

The two leaders exchanged formal greetings in the airport's VIP lounge, which was draped in red, white and blue.

De Gaulle saluted his visitor as the president of the country which, "more than all the others, is dear to France."

Eisenhower responded that De Gaulle was "the symbol of French courage when freedom itself was at stake."

"We will find ways to make our common effort more effective," the American president said.

A Europe-wide TV network carried the arrival ceremonies.

Youth's Auto Slams Against Slow Freight

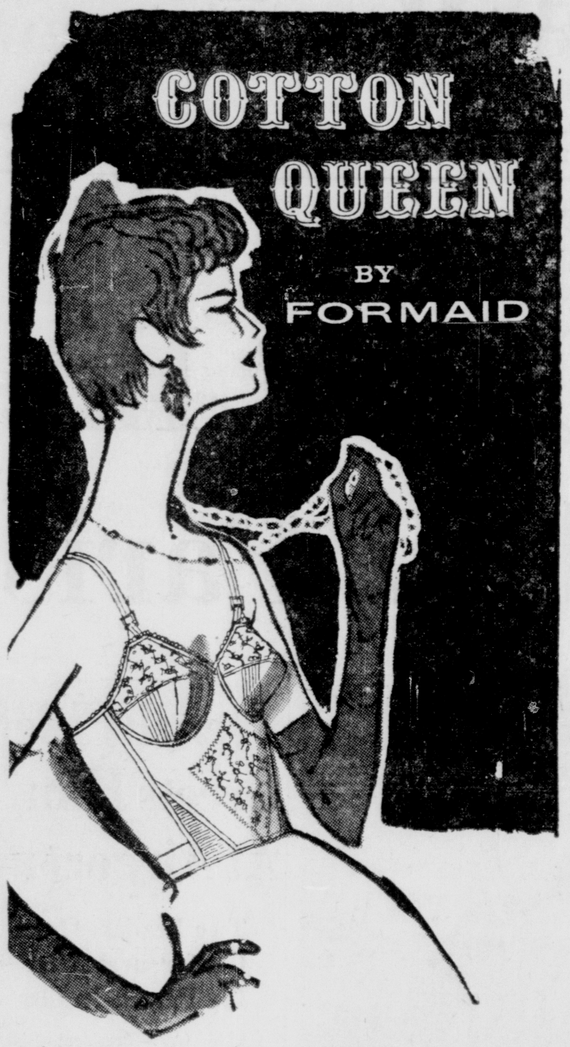

EAST PALESTINE — A 19-year-old Oak St. youth is in "fairly good" condition today at Salem City Hospital with injuries suffered when his auto car slammed into a boxcar of a slightly-moving freight train on E. Taggart St. just east of the city limits Tuesday night.

Thomas Cartwright, 62 Oak St., received possible chest injuries, and cuts and bruises of the face when his 1957 coach hit the side of the sixth car in the string of cars being moved into the loading yard of the Natco Corp. at 9:05 p. m. by a shifter locomotive.

Cartwright was treated by a city physician, then taken to the hospital for observation. The engineer was Robert Bryan, 51, of Alliance R. D. 3.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon cited Cartwright for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. The front of the auto was damaged, officers reported.

New Ohio Laws On Cars Reviewed

New Ohio laws relating to motor car ownership and operation will be going into effect from month to month through next July, Judson English of the Columbiana County Motor Club offices here reminded today.

Some enactments of the recent legislature, including increased gasoline tax, already are in effect. The last will be a new law strengthening Ohio's financial responsibility statute, not effective until next July 1.

Here is the time schedule of dates motorists will need to remember, English said:

Oct. 19—Amber parking lights permitted on front of automobile, where present law authorizes white only.

Nov. 2—All farm achinery, animal-drawn vehicles and construction equipment outside construction zone must exhibit red flashing light visible 500 feet to rear when traveling on highway from dusk to dawn or during daytime when visibility is less than 500 feet.

Nov. 2—Destruction or removal prohibited of fences or other barriers erected to prevent traffic from entering or leaving limiting access highway at unauthorized points, with penalties up to $50 fine, 30 days in jail, or both.

Nov. 2—A station wagon carrying not more than passengers will now be defined as a passenger car, where until then anything over seven passengers is classified as a motor bus.

Nov. 2—New Ohio resident with valid out - of - state driver's license may drive in Ohio on a temporary instruction permit for 30 days without being accompanied by an Ohio licensed driver.

Nov. 4.—New law controlling traffic on limited access highways requires person entering such a highway or changing lanes to do so only when the movement can be made with safety, also permits speed up to 50 miles an hour on such highways within cities, including school zones where highway is properly fenced.

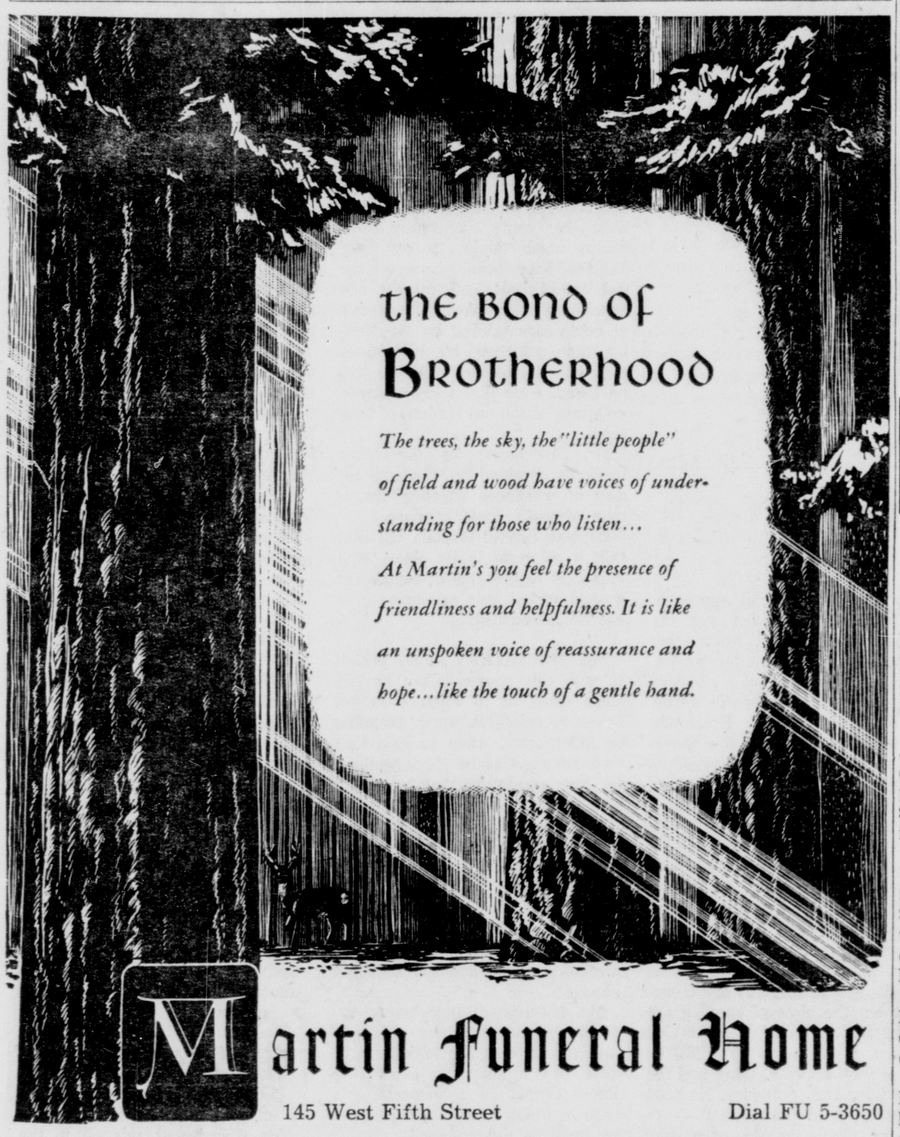

Nov. 6.—Mayor's courts lose right to hear traffic cases arising outside the limits of their municipality, authorizes court clerks for county courts, provision for greater ease in posting bond, authorizes new court procedures for greater uniformity in traffic courts throughout state.

Nov. 10.—Penalties for drag-racing will be increased to 6 of the 12 points which, if assessed for traffic penalties in a two - year period, will result in suspension of driver's license, also fine up to $500, jail up to six months, or both. A person assisting is subject to the same penalties.

July 1.—Ohio financial responsibility law is made applicable in other states on reciprocal basis, time that security must be maintained if no lawsuit is filed is extended from one to two years following accident, minimum security of $500 (insurance or other) must be deposited if personal injury is involved in the accident, personal liability insurance requirement doubled to $10,000 for injury to one person, $20,000 for two or more, while continuing the $5,000 limit for property damage.

West Virginians' Relief Checks To Go Up On Nov. 1

CHARLESTON (AP) — The monthly checks of 107,000 West Virginians on relief will go up from $3 to $6 on Nov. 1.

Affected will be those receiving old age assistance, aid to the blind, aid to dependent children and aid to the permanently and totally disabled.

Public Assistance Director Thomas R. Egbert said checks of 20,335 old age assistance cases will be increased from $30.46 to $33.61; 1,052 aid to the blind cases from $34.87 to $38.20; 7,737 permanently and totally disabled from $33.72 to $37.23. Checks for 20,408 dependent children cases, made up of 61,204 youngsters and 17,346 caretakers, will be raised from $83.44 to $89.40.

Egbert said the raises were made possible through money available under a new state appropriation and a leveling off of the state's relief case load.

Births Outnumber Deaths In State In First 6 Months

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Available figures indicate there were more births and fewer deaths in Ohio for the first six months of this year than for the comparable period of 1958.

But the Vital Statistics Division of the State Health Department pointed out that the figures are provisional and only reflect registered births and deaths. Delays in reporting may change the 1959 totals, they explained.

As they stand, department records show 109,417 births between Jan. 1 and June 30, compared with 108,689 for the same six months last year. At the same time, 45,473 deaths were noted, compared with 46,097 in 1958.

A Fox That Chases The Hounds

President Eisenhower made a hit in England with his quip that "people want peace so much that one of these days government better get out of their way and let them have it."

It will be a hit among his fellow Americans, too—not solely because it reflects their feelings about peace but because it points up a fact about the relationship between the governed and their governors.

In theory, a public official leads his people; he likes to hear himself described as a "public leader."

But in fact a public official more often than not turns into a fox that chases the hounds. On the theory that public affairs ultimately become a curved line, like infinity, itself, many a shrewd official has learned how to lead his public in a circle, so he is both ahead and behind it, depending on which is more advantageous at the moment.

Statesmen have agreed publicly since the disenchantment following World War I that war has ceased to be a tolerable instrument of national policy.

If there had been any doubt about it, the post-mortems at Hiroshima and Nagasaki, coupled with what is known about the far greater power of the hydrogen bomb, would have removed it.

While heads of state and their ministers, scientists and spokesmen have been continuing to talk as if they had to convert the people to a sense of danger, the people have been so far ahead of them they had a sense of futility about leadership.

This accounts for the "apathy" about civil defense that is deplored endlessly in Washington and perhaps in London, Paris, Tokyo and Moscow, too, if the truth were known. Populations already convinced they would be exterminated if their governments made the fatal error of going to war cannot see why they should show a lively interest in postponing what they have been told would be their certain death.

But there still is the fact that people who do not have the privilege of free information and free expression cannot have control over their governments, except through revolution.

The people of the United States and Britain want peace, and their governments know about it. The people of France, Italy, the Scandinavian countries, the Netherlands, Belgium, West Germany and even Japan want peace—and their governments know about it.

It cannot be assumed, therefore, that the people of Russia want peace and that their government knows or cares about it. There has been neither free information nor free expression in Russia. This was one of the things Vice President Nixon pointed out to Premier Khrushchev as a barrier between the United States and Russia. It is one of the things President Eisenhower surely must mention as an obstacle to international understanding.

The people of Russia probably want peace. But until they have a government responsive to what they want, no other nation will dare to take the Russian desire for peace seriously.

A Lesson In Public Consistency

As local officials throughout Ohio scream in pained surprise at his veto of the auto license fee increase, Gov. DiSalle is replying that he suspects the surprise is more feigned than pained.

At a press conference in Canton last Saturday night, for instance, the governor said he did not understand how anyone could have thought he would do anything else with the proposal. He recalled that a couple of months ago — after the Ohio House approved the $2.50 boost — he had told newmen he would not be unhappy if the Senate let the measure die right there.

Our curiosity aroused, we sifted through our own file of stories written during the recent legislative session and found one dated June 17 which recorded Gov. DiSalle as saying just what he claims to have said.

The story also reported that the chief executive stated these reasons for his attitude:

"The state already collects and returns to local governments 230 million dollars a year from gasoline taxes and auto license fees.

"You always find people saying the responsibility of raising local taxes ought to be with the local governments, but you'd be surprised how happy the local governments are to have the state take the responsibility for collecting money for them.

"I don't think there are 1,000 people in Ohio who know that 40 per cent of all the money the state collects goes back to the local governments."

These same arguments reappeared in the veto message, but the governor went further. He proposed, in effect, that instead of running to Columbus every two years to cry for more money, local officials get together with their legislators and work out a way for local governments to take on themselves the task of raising the money they need.

In view of the fact that Gov. DiSalle has been talking like this since he took office eight months ago, the charge by local officials such as Cuyahoga County Engineer Albert S. Porter that the veto was a "cowardly act" seems a bit misplaced.

Isn't it just as logical to argue that some of the local governments are too cowardly to face the reasonableness of the point Gov. DiSalle is trying to make? It's mighty easy to be brave when you only take the responsibility of spending money and can blame someone else for not giving you all you want to spend.

For eight months the governor has been repeating — in press conferences, veto messages, special messages, private conferences and public speeches — his wholehearted support for home rule.

It's time those people with the biggest stake in home rule started being as consistent about it as he is.

An Added Burden

When thousands of district students return to school, it's fundamental that the problem of traffic safety increases.

This is something that has been happening for years, but it must be considered in a new light each school term in that new youngsters and new drivers are confronted with the problem.

This calls for new instruction, new training and new emphasis on responsibility — both on the part of the pedestrian students and the drivers of automobiles.

If you're a parent, go over the rules of traffic safety once more with your youngsters. If you're a school guard, do your duty in a patient but firm manner from the beginning. If you're a student, learn well the part you play in traffic safety.

But, above all, if you're a driver, get ready to assume that extra burden that is yours. You're in command of a fast-moving, heavy vehicle. A child doesn't have a chance against it. So keep your mind on your driving, your foot on the brake and your eye on that youngster who could dart into the path of your car.

FORMAT FOR A NIKITA WELCOME

"Welcome to America, the land of the free, whose liberties should amaze you. But don't misconstrue the red mat. You are here because (1) the government and the people don't fear you; (2) America is a gracious land of kindly people; (3) Uncle Sam sees a ray of hope in the fight to save the earth from extinction.

"We hope you don't get too far lost through wrong highway signs, mistake a welcome mat for a symbol of approval or misinterpret traffic noises for applause. Scratch any Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde acts in midwelcome. Watch out for bicyclists riding two abreast on busy streets.

"Don't mind all the people selling tickets in auto raffles. Don't blow your stack if you tune into a TV set and are offered a prize for answering, 'Why I love America' in 25 words.

"ALWAYS REMEMBER you will get the same protection given visiting heroes, channel swimmers, Mickey Cohen, our most controversial movie stars and America's best friends in parades and monkeyshines.

"Bear in mind that an occasional tomato has been experienced and excused by our candidates for the presidency, America's best actors and even our vice president.

"We hope you like the country and will realize you have been given a wrong steer on it as occupied exclusively by crude capitalists, dirty exploiters and purple people-eaters.

"Bear in mind that we are as surprised as you are by your presence in the United States. A year ago it was 10-1 you would never be seen bowing from an auto in American streets. Five years ago it was 50-1 that you would never be shaking hands with Ike in the shadow of the George Washington, Abe Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson memorials. It's a cockeyed world fumbling around in the 'Anything goes' mood.

"Look, study and analyze the American scene. It's wonderful. You can learn plenty. Americans can be suspicious but rarely hateful.

"You needn't employ a taster to test our coffee, examine our steaks chemically or run your cocktails through Litmus paper. We ain't that kind of folks. To sum up, you're welcome, but don't let it go to your head."

AUCTIONS OF SURPLUS GOODS are to be held in many distant cities by TV, with bidders using two-way radio. (We intend to bid a hundred grand or so on a dynamo or something and then insist we thought it was a "Tic Tac Dough" or "Price Is Right" program.) This can kill the charm of auctions.

Half the thrill was the discomfort, the heat and the feeling you were bidding crazily in the presence of eye witnesses.

Tuck-Pointing

Time Wasted In Reading

By Jim Doyle

If you read this article, the chances are you'll be wasting your time.

For, although most Americans are readers, they don't know how to read. The authority for that statement is Dr. Nila Banton Smith, professor of education at New York University and director of NYU's Reading Institute. She has spent much of her adult life teaching people how to read efficiently.

She has written some 40 books and more than 200 articles in scholarly and popular periodicals on the subject.

Most of us, she has found, are painfully inept to the basic skill of reading and even those of us who read comparatively well utilize only a fraction of our capabilities. This article contains about 1,000 words. The average person will spend three and four minutes on it; a good reader about two. An expert reader will finish it in less than one.

Dr. Smith has taught people of all ages, shapes, sizes and conditions of servitude to read.

Last year the Reading Institute had nearly 3,000 students. They ranged in age from 7 to 70, they came from 16 states and several foreign countries and they included clerical workers, students, engineers editors, butchers and bakers. Dr. Smith is still waiting for her first candlestick maker.

HERE ARE SOME of the results:

A tenth grade student who had a good strong "F" average before specialized reading training had no mark lower than a "B" on his first report card after he took the course.

A motion picture producer increased his reading speed from 350 to 1,200 words per minute. He can now read an average novel in less than an hour.

The efficiency of a group of clerical workers showed more improvement after a 28-hour institute reading course than it had over six years (on the average) of on-the-job practice.

A New Jersey pharmaceutical company, whose laboratory workers were being overwhelmed by the snowballing amount of material they had to read, arranged for special instruction for them. Their average reading speed—on technical material—increased from a little more than 300 words per minute to nearly 800.

Do these results sound spectacular? Not at all, Dr. Smith says. In most cases a Reading Institute course doubles a person's reading speed and often triples it.

"But," Dr. Smith says, "If we find a prospective student who reads at a rate of 1,000 words a minute, we send him home. We can't go much beyond that." She herself reads at about 1,200 words a minute.

WHAT DIFFERENCE does it make whether you spend four minutes on a newspaper story or one? Probably none. But reading speed makes a great deal of difference to the business executive who faces a mountain of paper work each day before he can get down to his real job.

(Executives and professional men, surveys show, spend from 25 to 75 per cent of their working time reading.)

Or to the college student who has to plow through 15 novels for only one of his courses. Or even to the suburban wife who finds herself embarrassed at cocktail parties because she's still plodding along on last year's best seller.

Of course, speed without comprehension is worthless but the rapid reader, in almost every case, has a better understanding of what he is reading than does the slow one.

Dr. Smith explains that this is because he has learned how to read—he is freed from preoccupation with the mechanics of reading and is able to concentrate on ideas.

One group of executives who took a Reading Institute course increased their average speed from 204 words per minute to 495; at the same time their comprehension of what they read increased from 69 per cent to 91 and the time they took to pick a specific fact from a mass of detail decreased from 11.52 seconds to 5.92.

Why, if we are capable of reading so well, do most of us read so poorly?

"Reading," Dr. Smith explains, "is not a single skill, but a complex of skills. Our schools teach children the ABC's of reading but about the time they should be starting to learn how best to utilize their elementary skills—about the sixth grade—we forget about reading instruction."

Nor, she goes on, is all reading the same.

A RAPID-READING lawyer relaxes with a novel in the evening with entirely different things in mind than when he is examining a brief in the afternoon. The movie producer who whips through a novel in an hour or less is reading with a different purpose than is the clerical worker going through stacks of invoices. Still different is the aim of an actor studying his lines. But all are reading—using a tool as versatile as a pitchman's kitchen gadget, each for a different purpose.

At the Reading Institute, the purpose and not the tool is emphasized. It's a new, and by previous standards radical approach. Not until 80 years ago was the astonishing discovery made that people did not read letter by letter, as in most schools children are still taught to recognize words.

Then, in 1879, a Frechman named Javal, studying eye movements, found that some readers nibble at the printed page a word at a time, others take bites of a few words each, and a few—the rapid readers—gulp it down a line or even a paragraph at a time. This gave educators an idea—speed up eye movement and speed up reading.

It worked, but only within limits. The Reading Institute shows its students how to speed up eye movement but the aims of reading are emphasized. Reading is a thinking process, the student is told—the idea is the important thing and the mechanics are secondary. He soon learns to read purposively — to gulp or nibble as the case may demand, to scan, skim or scrutinize.

One of the institute's major activities nowadays is specialized training for business groups, often tailor made to meet specific problems. A Reading Institute specialist spent six months in Hollywood recently working with several major studios.

Other clients included the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, a large investment bank (whose clerks handled 80,000 more checks a day after the training) and an engineers' association.

Public interest in reading has spurted. Dr. Smith herself attends more conventions and shakes more hands than an available senator and she can't train enough teachers to satisfy the demand. "Reading," she says, "is the hottest thing in education today."

Bulging At The Seams

The Library of Congress, which started with 740 books and a case of maps, now bulges with 36,900,000 items.

The first volumes were stored in a small office in the Capitol. They were not uncrated for several months because a librarian had not been appointed and the secretary of the Senate felt that "whenever they are opened some person should be made answerable for them or in my opinion the volumes will be immediately dispersed and lost."

Today, the library occupies two buildings with 36 acres of floor space, 250 miles of book shelves and 2,500 employes answerable for the collection. Its administrators have asked Congress for a third building, which would have more space than the present two combined.

Since its founding in 1800, the Washington institution has grown from a service to Congress into a national research and reference library that is probably the world's largest.

Growth is inevitable and the Library of Congress has to exercise considerable restraint to avoid being overwhelmed by the huge mass of available material. This includes copyright deposits, gifts, purchases, exchanges and transfers.

Among the publications it rejects are advertising matter, daily weather maps, most paperback reprints and minor fiction, mail order catalogues, except the largest ones, travel folders, commercial house organs and betting systems submitted for copyright. Only press releases from the White House and State Department are filed.

Appearances Deceiving

By David Lawrence

Khrushchev Would Seize On Sign Of Weakness

Although President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan gave an impression of unity of purpose in their joint television-radio broadcast from London, there were plainly apparent some substantial differences as to what are the best tactics to use in dealing with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

David Lawrence

Quite clearly the political undercurrents in Britain require the Prime Minister to favor summit meetings and personal negotiations with the Soviet Premier irrespective of the ultimate consequences, whereas Mr. Eisenhower seems to feel that even a summit meeting should be preceded by some show of progress toward peace with the Moscow government.

These postures are not new. London and Washington have made them plain before.

Nevertheless it was significant that in this impromptu conversation between the two leaders of the West the same skepticism and doubts about Soviet policy that hitherto have been expressed by the United States government are accompanied by the same words of confidence uttered by the British that somehow by continuous talk with Khrushchev solutions will be found, even if it takes a dozen meetings of the top leaders of both sides.

Mr. Eisenhower, on the other hand, is troubled by the impression of weakness which a marathon of talks could produce.

He was careful to point out that talk is all right in its place as a means of exploration or search for a solution but that principles cannot be abandoned.

MR. MACMILLAN agreed broadly with this approach but he left some doubt as to whether he believes principle is worth standing on indefinitely, when he said that "we have got to be flexible about the new conditions that arise and how to deal with each situation."

The President graciously translated this into flexibility of tactics, rather than retreat on the principle itself. He said:

"In other words, you are saying strategic principle stays immutable—tactics change according to armed weapons and the different changes."

Mr. Eisenhower then, as an example, emphasized the principle involved in West Berlin, where, he said, two million free West Berliners cannot be abandoned — a case in which "we've really got to be firm, in my opinion."

While the British leader was trying hard to give the appearance of harmony, he still put in a boost just the same for his favorite concept—"flexibility." He commented:

"I agree with that, and I agree also with your other principle, that we've got to use the right tactical methods to achieve our purpose with a reasonable amount of adjustment that is necessary from time to time."

All this may sound as if the television broadcast was a kind of struggle with words and their finer meanings as applied to the diplomatic problems of the hour but actually the differences are ingrained in the philosophy of the London government and in the point of view toward Europe taken by the United States in the last four decades.

THUS IN BRITAIN, as the President recognized, there is a pressure for more trade with the Soviet Union and a trend toward adjustment of differences on what is called a practical basis.

The United States has been able, in connection with the policies it followed in entering the two world wars, to disassociate itself from the material side and to emphasize its many sacrifices for the cause of human liberty and freedom.

The most realistic portion of the broadcast was the pointed references made by Mr. Macmillan to the circumstances that led to the two world wars.

He thought the first world war could have been prevented and "happened by mistake," but that the second world war could not have been avoided, no matter what preceded it, "because wicked men plotted it who were determined to achieve their aims."

The British Prime Minister refers to the "danger that we might drift into something by mistake" but, unfortunately, the situation facing the world today is more like that which preceded World War II than World War I. For "wicked men" are in power in Moscow and again there is a tendency on the part of their potential adversaries to appease them.

These are the tactics which can lead to another miscalculation as to the resoluteness and determination of the West.

ALTOGETHER, the decision of Eisenhower and Macmillan to avoid the explicitness of a question-and-answer press conference and to deal instead with current problems in an implicit way through carefully chosen phrases in an extemporaneous broadcast, is a sign of the gravity of the whole situation.

While the President has undertaken his present trip to Europe in order to cement the Western alliance, he is well aware that the psychological effects of any British-American pronouncements could be far-reaching.

The alert-minded Khrushchev could take advantage of any signs of cleavage or indeed weaknesses, despite every outward appearance of unity.

The Eisenhower mission to the Allies is as important as, if not more important than, the subsequent parleys with Khrushchev himself.

The Soviet Premier knows appeasement when he sees it and recognizes irresoluteness if there is the slightest suggestion of it by word or deed.

Learning The Score

By Truman Twill

The tale of Chheng Guan Lim, who hid four years in the attic of the First Methodist Church in Ann Arbor, Mich., after losing confidence in himself as a University of Michigan student, will stand a lot of retelling.

Provided it does not blow up as some kind of hoax, which is a possibility until all the details have been pinned down, what seems to have happened to this 28-year-old Chinese while he was holed up knocks loose some preconceived ideas.

For one thing, he gained weight under living conditions that theoretically should have made him waste away through malnutrition and lack of activity. He weighed 10 pounds more when he finally was found than he weighed when he vanished.

For another, he may have learned more in four years while listening to his radio and reading the books he could get his hands on than he would have learned if he had remained at large, studying and sweating it out as a classroom student.

And for another, Chheng may have learned the score while he was roosting in the attic of the church. This is the possibility that promises to be most intriguing to theoreticians interested in the possibility of new ideas that could improve education.

Theoreticians. That's me. I can afford to theorize because I have nothing to lose. I am not a teacher or an educative administrator, just a bystander. All I know is what I can see with my own eyes and hear with my own ears. And what I have found out by these means is that education — real education — cannot begin until the educatee knows the score.

Up to that point, the educatee either is a vegetable or a rebel. But as soon as he knows the score he turns into a learner. He becomes a sponge, eager to soak up everything he touches. He wants to know. He cares about knowledge.

He quits being dull-eyed and becomes eager and bright.

He quits fighting the teacher and the system and studies ways and means to get along with them to his own advantage. Hostility vanishes from his makeup. He is hungry for information. He is not afraid to satisfy his hunger. He is not ashamed of being a learner.

He becomes a student.

It sounds simple, but it is the most elusive thing there is in the mystery of education.

In the Old World, there is no problem, because the Old World idea is to make education a privilege. Thus, all applicants are universally eager. They hunger for knowledge. They all eat, and they make the educators look good.

In this part of the New World, education is bestowed willy-nilly on one and all, and the toughest part is to arouse interest in it. Appetites must be whetted.

What everybody is entitled to have as a matter of right always becomes drab and commonplace. About 80 per cent of all the kids who will be packed off to public school after Labor Day this month will be antagonistic to the idea and will fight their teachers and the system of compulsory education tooth and nail for the next nine months.

If someone could find out how to teach more kids the score before they are too old to learn, miracles could be wrought in education. Chheng Guan Lim apparently learned while lurking in an attic four years that knowledge is more important than grades, which was a beginning. He learned that much of the score in four years, which is a rough idea why most human beings don't live long enough to take advantage of education.

Wellsville Council Meets

Water Extension Rate Set

Two pieces of legislation, one setting water rates and tapping fees for the Russell Heights extension project and the other appropriating money for purchase of a portable pump, were adopted by Wellsville City Council at a brief session Tuesday night.

Kevan Excavating of Glenmoor will install the 3,800-foot water extension from Springhill Cemetery to Russell Heights for $13,635. The tapping fee for residents in the area was set at $500 for each home and the quarterly water rate will be one and a half times the city rate. The city minimum is $4 per quarter up to and including 8,000 gallons. This makes the minimum rate to residents in the area $6 per quarter.

THE $500 fee includes a meter, curb box, corporation stop and the tapping. The customer will have to pay for the water line from the main and for the labor.

A total of $950 was appropriated for the purchase of a portable pump mounted on a trailer. Half will be taken from the water rental fund and half from the flood wall fund. The Board of Control will make the purchase. The pump is needed in emergencies when water backs up through sewers into basements of homes during floods.

—:—

MAYOR WILLIAM J. Shoub's report for August showed $2,887.14 collected in fines and fees.

Councilman Ancel Moore, street and light committee chairman, said he and Dan MacLean of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce made a check of streets signs in the city. Twenty-nine signs either need repaired or replaced. The Jaycees have offered aid in the project. The list of signs was referred to Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson. He will be asked to check the cost.

Moore said his committee will check a request for a street light on Lisbon St. near Wood St. He also reported Wells Hollow Rd. has been graded and slagged. The project was done jointly by the city and Yellow Creek Township trustees.

COUNCILMAN Robert Taggart reported a sign is needed at the intersection of 18th and Commerce Sts. to inform motorists that 18th is one-way. There are signs at both ends of 18th but none where it is joined by Commerce, he said. The matter was referred to the director.

Councilman J. Frederick Russell said a check indicated residents of Aten Ave. want a sewer line no matter what the cost. Russell's water and sewer committee has been investigating extending the lines out Aten.

Constable Earl A. Frost informed Council that a new state law requires that all constables be appointed by township trustees. He asked that Council appoint him. Myron Weis, Council president, said a check will be made with Solicitor William Bush. Councilmen are in effect the trustees of Wellsville Township.

The Rev. Bruce Davis of the Second Presbyterian Church gave the opening and closing prayers.

Killed In Collision

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A car-truck collision Tuesday killed Gale Norman Cobaugh, 22, of New Carlisle. Highway Patrolmen said Cobaugh was attempting to pass a truck on U.S. 36 three miles south of here when he slammed into an oncoming tractor-trailer rig. The truck driver was treated for minor injuries.

Fund Canvass Set By Newell Groups

A house-to-house canvass for funds for an anti-litter campaign and polio drive will be conducted by the senior and junior auxiliaries of American Legion Post 114 Friday in Newell.

Mrs. Mae Hupp, senior chairman, said the canvass will begin shortly after school is dismissed in the afternoon.

The two projects are in co-operation with Gov. Cecil H. Underwood's plea for cleaner highways in West Virginia and additional funds to aid in the fight against polio.

Miss Elizabeth Hupp is junior chairman.

Each Newell resident who donates to the polio fund is to receive a litterbag for the family auto.

Newell volunteer firemen will operate a road block Saturday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. to solicit funds from passing motorists. Arnie Durham is chairman of the drive in Newell. Bert Byers is chairman for Hancock County.

Flood Peril In Mexico

CIUDAD OBREGON, Mexico (AP)—A sharp rise in the Yaqui River was expected today, and the threat of floods sent thousands fleeing from their homes in southwest Sonora State. Heavy rains sent high waters spilling over from the Alvarado Obregon Dam into the river, which flows 50 miles through southwest Sonora State into the Gulf of California.

The new Aqueduct racing plant has a 25-bed hospital.

Guns Spoke Start Of World War II

Danzig Fell To Nazis After 7 Days

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

The guns spoke at 4:47 a.m. in Danzig, putting the world at war for the second time in a generation.

It was Sept. 1, 1939, and the fateful shots had been expected for months. Adolf Hitler was fulfilling his promise to seize Danzig back from League of Nations trusteeship for his "greater German reich."

As the ominous rumble of gunfire echoed over the stately old city, pigeons cooed from the gables of the ancient houses. Windows flew up. Hitler's storm troopers already were pasting up signs proclaiming Danzig's return to Germany.

Down in the harbor, the German cruiser Schleswig Holstein, which had slipped into port a week earlier on a "courtesy visit," was pumping shell after shell into the Westerplatte peninsula. Here the small Polish garrison in the city guarded a munitions dump.

The free state of Danzig, including the city and a small surrounding area, had been created under the Treaty of Versailles after World War I at Polish insistence. It was placed under the protection of the League of Nations.

With its many towers, Renaissance buildings and its austere Marienkirche, Danzig was one of the loveliest cities in northern Europe.

There had been no mistaking the approach of war in Danzig. For weeks, straight-backed strangers with the unmistakable bearing of the German wehrmacht had been prowling the city in civilian clothes.

The day before it happened, more strangers appeared. The stores had been crowded all day with Germans. They had the greedy, luxury-loving glint in their eyes which bespoke the austerities of Hitler's reich even before the war.

At the Deutches Haus, where I had been staying for nearly two months, it was hot and unusually quiet on the night of Aug. 31. The three-piece German orchestra in the hotel cafe signed off with a flourish earlier than usual and departed, never to return.

Shortly before 10 o'clock that night, a German with a leathery face and a demanding voice stepped up to the night porter in the hotel and said: "Herr porter, call me promptly at 4 a.m."

He couldn't be anything but a German army officer. And his early call could mean nothing but trouble.

The streets filled quickly as the gunfire in the harbor increased. Danzig Nazis raced through the streets arresting all the Poles they could find. Polish business houses were ransacked, Polish mailboxes torn down.

But down on the Westerplatte, a long narrow peninsula on which the Poles were permitted to keep a small garrison and a munitions dump, a thin little Polish major named Henryk Sucharski was doing what he had been sent there to do.

Major Sucharski, son of a peasant family in Greboszoe, Poland, had 201 men with 165 rifles, 38 revolvers, 16 heavy machine guns, 23 light machine guns, four 88 mm. mortars, two 37-mm. antitank guns and one three-inch field gun which really was a museum piece.

Facing him, only 700 yards away, was the Schleswig Holstein with four 11-inch guns, ten 6-inch guns and other guns of smaller calibre. In addition,, the Germans had almost unlimited ground and air forces to throw against him.

It was fire from the Schleswig Holstein which brought the garrison to its posts. At almost the same time, a German ground force tried to force its way into the Polish positions. Machine guns in high buildings across a canal from the garrison also opened fire. Sucharski had his hands full.

The Polish field gun was hit by a German shell after firing only 30 rounds. But Sucharski and his men repulsed the ground attack. They repulsed two more attacks at dusk.

When night fell over Danzig, Sucharski ordered some tracer bullets fired into the sky from the Westerplatte to taunt the Germans and show he was still there. Hitler had planned to take Danzig in one day. All the decorations for a celebration had been put up in the city.

For six days and nights, while their positions crumbled about them, fires burned and their communications were destroyed, Sucharski and his shrinking band held the fort.

On the seventh day, Maj. Sucharski put on his big sword, lined up 71 men who could still stand and surrendered. The other members of the garrison were dead or wounded.

The German commander was so impressed by the gallant major he allowed him to keep his sword. But Sucharski, writing an account of the action later in a German prison camp, said:

"It was the most tragic moment of my life."

International Friendships Seen Aided By Rotary Club

"Every summit has to have a base," Amos R. Buchman, Rotary's district governor for Northeastern Ohio, told members of the city club during an address Tuesday at a meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

"By building bridges of friendship between member clubs in a global network of Rotary communication, the international organization helps to provide a base of rank-and-file goodwill to strengthen and support the agreements reached by statesmen and diplomats," he said.

Buchman, a public utility executive in the Wooster area, cited the importance of "do - it - yourself" bridges of friendship by each Rotary member in his annual visit.

"In addition to the activities of the more than 10,200 Rotary Clubs within their own communities of promoting the friendship bridges, Rotary International has awarded grants of more than $3 million in the past 12 years through its program of student fellowships," he recounted.

The fellowships enable outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own as Rotary ambassadors of good will.

Since 1947 when this program was established, 1,202 Rotary Foundation Fellowships have been awarded to students in 67 countries for study in 44 countries. Rotary's Northeastern Ohio district is represented this year by Jerry Footlick of Wooster, who is doing graduate work in political science and government at the University of London under a Rotary Foundation Fellowship.

"With friendly communication and service to others as its keynote," Buchman pointed out, "Rotary provides a common ground for nearly 500,000 business and professional men throughout the world, regardless of differing nationalities or languages or political beliefs."

The district governor urged local Rotarians to attend the Rotary district conference to be held in Wooster early in May 1960 with the theme "Something for Everyone."

He also urged planning for good representation at the 51st annual convention of Rotary International from May 28-June 2 in Miami Beach, Fla. The 1961 convention will be held in Tokyo, Japan, he said.

He commended Charles Taylor, president, for the club's sponsorship of youths each year to Cincinnati and the United Nations building in New York.

Taylor called attention to a district institute scheduled Sept. 25 in Newton Falls. Guests introduced included Sam Pollock of Steubenville, post district governor, one from Midland and another from Coral Gables, Fla.

Oklahomans Took Legal Whisky Soberly On First Day

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahomans took their legal liquor soberly Tuesday.

Curiosity stood in for jubilation as almost 500 liquor stores opened their doors. Sooners bought their jugs in public for the first time since statehood in 1907.

There was no singing, no dancing in the streets.

A State Tax Commission official reported sale of liquor stamps in August netted Oklahoma close to four million dollars.

A Woman's Christian Temperance Union leader said "We don't need the taxes. Nobody needs anything that comes from the devil."

In Tulsa operators said business was so brisk the first hour it was hard to handle. Then it tapered off. Some persons merely strolled through, looking at the bottles.

Prices were relatively high, thanks to the state's $2.40 per gallon tax. But they compared favorably with what bootleggers had charged. A fifth of a popular bourbon brought $4.73 to $4.85 here.

In Oklahoma City a bootlegger ordered a dozen pints of whisky to give to old customers "who stuck with me through thick and thin."

In Durant a man ducked a photographer who wanted to shoot him making one of the first purchases. "Heck no," said the man, "my wife doesn't even know I'm down here."

In Cushing an 84-year-old man told the store owner, "Son, I ain't bought a bottle since 1907. I like my nip, but I figure a man ought to obey the law."

He was a rarity among drinking Oklahomans. Most of them dealt with bootleggers or made their purchases outside the state line.

Five times the wets failed to repeal prohibition in statewide elections.

But last April they mustered the strength, 396,845 to 314,380.

Girl Makes New Court Bid To Get OK For Operation

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Charlene Butts, 19, is trying another court action to obtain consent for a brain operation that may save her life.

Her attorney petitioned Wyandotte County Probate Court Tuesday for appointment of a guardian for the girl.

A guardian could authorize the surgery. Physicians say the girl has a tumor that will make her blind in two years and take her life in four or five years.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butts of Oswego, Kan., have refused to consent to the operation. Mrs. Butts declined to say why. Charlene has said they are opposed to the operation because a masseur who examined her said surgery wasn't necessary.

Charlene's attorney petitioned District Court last Saturday to declare the girl an adult so she could consent to the operation. A 30-day waiting period is required by law on that action.

Coach Addresses 26 Wellsville Kiwanians

Twenty-six heard Kenneth Woods, head football coach at Wellsville High School, speak on the school athletic training program at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

Ladies Night was set for Oct. 13. A dinner will be held at the Yellow Creek Grange Hall. The Board of Directors will meet Friday noon at Meade's Restaurant. Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, president, presided.

Auto Antenna Injures Child

An Irondale area youngster, struck in the eye by a springing auto radio antenna he had pulled, was admitted Tuesday night to City Hospital where eight other young people and adults were treated yesterday.

Mark Hoobler, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoobler of near Irondale, is in "fairly good" condition with an injury to the right eye suffered when hit by the flexible metal antenna he had pulled down at home.

Mrs. Laura Forester, 140 W. Church Ln., was treated last night for a fracture and dislocation of the left shoulder received in a fall at home.

In a fall against a bicycle, Guy Railing, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Railing of New Cumberland R. D. 2, suffered a laceration of the scalp.

Vicki Lynn Wern, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wern of Pughtown, was treated for a possible fractured right ankle received in a fall at home.

Michael McKinnon, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKinnon of Salineville, suffered a possible fracture of the right arm in a fall at play.

In a fall on bicycle bars, Jeff Means, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Means of 7th Ave., LaCroft, received cuts and abrasions.

Mrs. Harry Stewart of Hookstown suffered a laceration of the left thumb on an auto door.

John Bolton, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dennis of East Liverpool, received a fractured wrist in a fall while climbing a tree.

Miss Patricia Louise Conrad of Darlington, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Conrad of Rochester, became the bride of Pfc. Phillip Allen Rich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Rich of Industry, Aug. 21 in the Four-Mile United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Ray McCreight performed the double-ring, evening ceremony before an altar decorated with white blossoms and ferns. Mrs. Frank Herron of Industry gave a recital of nuptial organ melodies.

The bride's floor-length gown of fleur-de-lis lace and satin was designed and made by the bridegroom's mother. A portrait neckline, trimmed with seed pearls, enhanced the tight fitted bodice. A Juliet cap held her fingertip veil of silk illusion.

A white orchid surrounded by stephanotis was posed on the white Bible she carried. Pearl earrings was her only jewelry and all the familiar traditions were observed.

Raymond Conrad of Pittsburgh gave his niece in marriage.

Miss Bettie Lou Phillips of Ohio View, cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of gold net and crystalette styled identically to that of the bride. Her headpiece was of matching net and crystalette and she carried a basket of gold and rust chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pakacs, the bride's sister and brother-in-law, with whom she made her home in Darlington, and the bridegroom's parents entertained 200 guests at a reception in the Fairview Grange Hall following the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Rochester High School. Her husband was graduated from Midland High School and attended Geneva College before enlisting in the Army. He was formerly employed by Crucible Steel Co. in Midland.

The bride will reside temporarily with the bridegroom's parents while her husband continues his tour of duty at Ft. Benning, Ga.

DiSalle Gives Reply To Kentucky Governor

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle replied Tuesday to a comment made by Kentucky Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler that Ohio should have reduced spending as his state did this year.

"I find being governor of Ohio a full-time job without taking on other states," said DiSalle. "I think if Happy worked at it he might find being governor of Kentucky a full-time job, too.

"There are five states with lower taxes than Ohio, but Kentucky is not one of them," DiSalle told a Rotary Club meeting.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average near or a little above normal. Normal high 79 north to 82 south. Normal low 57 north to 60 south. Warmer Friday, turning cooler Sunday or Monday. Rainfall will average one-half to one inch and locally higher in scattered showers and thundershowers mostly Thursday and again Sunday or Monday.

August Ends Among Hottest Months In Weather History

Eight days of above 90 - degree temperatures helped to make August one of the hottest months in local weather history, according to Edwin R. Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer.

The temperature for the month averaged 72.7 degrees, almost 4 degrees above the normal 68.9 degrees in Copeland's 66-year books, and not far from the record 74.5-degree average of 1955.

Last month highs of 93 degrees were listed Aug. 24, 25 and 26. In 1955 there were 10 days of over 90-degrees in August when the high was 98 Copeland said.

The average temperature for August a year ago was a comparatively chilly 67 degrees with a high of 88. July is generally warmer than August, and Copeland reminded that in July 1955 there were 20 days in which the mercury went past the 90 mark.

Sunshine last month averaged 71 per cent, slightly above the normal 70 per cent. There were 18 clear days, 8 partly cloudy and 5 cloudy days.

Rainfall totaled a scarce 3.1 inches, below the normal 3.37 inches for the month. "The grounds needs an all-day soaking rain to put it in shape for fall plowing and preparations for planting," Copeland said.

The driest August on his records occurred in 1937 with only 1.02 inches of rainfall.

They're 'Silhouette Trees'

Downtown District To Get New Yuletide Decorations

For the first time in more than a generation, an entirely new decorative theme will be used in downtown East Liverpool for Christmas 1959.

First details of the change were revealed Tuesday in a report of the Christmas activities committee of the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

A 7-foot-tall "silhouette tree," outlined in weatherproof plastic and colored lights will be mounted on virtually every utility pole in the shopping area, the committee reported at the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The new decorative theme will replace the laurel-wrapped strands of colored lights zig-zagging across streets, a standby of the holiday season for 20 years or more.

The merchants' Christmas committee reported it has purchased 48 of the "silhouette trees," some red and some green. Mounted to the poles with metal brackets, each will be 14 feet above street level in order not to interfere with truck movement.

In connection with the decorative trees, businessmen will continue to use large lighted plastic figures of Santa Claus and his sleigh and reindeer and replicas of St. Nick's face which had been incorporated with the strands of colored lights in the last few years. Most of the existing plastic decorations also will be fastened to utility poles with metal brackets, rather than being suspended in mid-air by wires over the middle of the streets.

The new decorations are called "silhouette trees" because the colored plastic and lights are mounted so as to form the outline of a tree in a long pyrmidal shape. The center of each tree outline is open.

The report of the Christmas activities committee was presented by Leslie Blumenthal, ELMA chairman, in the absence of Harold Allison, chairman of the committee, who is on vacation.

In other business, ELMA agreed that East Liverpool stores will close at noon next Wednesday, Sept. 9, despite the Labor Day holiday. In the past, the practice generally has been to conduct business until 5 p. m. on the Wednesday of a week in which a legal holiday falls, closing the stores.

Wendell H. Vodrey submitted a brief report from the committee on store hours and said a full report will be given at the next meeting Oct. 6.

The businessmen discussed the Dollar Day sale held Aug. 13 and aired plans for fall promotions. The discussion was led by Richard Kerin, head of the promotion committee. There was a discussion on ways in which businessmen might aid the city administration in improving downtown parking conditions.

E. R. Chandler, executive secretary, explained details of a new state law forbidding fraudulent advertising.

3 Former MBS Officials Deny Charge By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three former Mutual Broadcasting System officials have denied federal accusations that they accepted $750,000 to broadcast Dominican Republic propaganda disguised as news.

A federal grand jury indicted the trio here Tuesday. They were charged with failing to register as agents for the Dominican Republic and with conspiring to keep Mutual from registering. The money allegedly was given them around last Feb. 6.

The indictments did not indicate if the network actually did broadcast any propaganda for the Dominican Republic. Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, a key figure in the present Caribbean unrest, is the Dominican strongman.

Two of the officials—Alexander L. Guterma and Garland L. Culpepper Jr.—resigned from Mutual within a week after they accepted the money, the federal grand jury charged. The third, Hal Roach Jr., left Mutual about a month and a half later.

Guterma, an international financier in trouble with the federal government on several other questions involving money matters, was president of Mutual. Roach was board chairman and Culpepper a director.

They're 'Silhouette Trees'

Downtown District To Get New Yuletide Decorations

For the first time in more than a generation, an entirely new decorative theme will be used in downtown East Liverpool for Christmas 1959.

First details of the change were revealed Tuesday in a report of the Christmas activities committee of the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

A 7-foot-tall "silhouette tree," outlined in weatherproof plastic and colored lights will be mounted on virtually every utility pole in the shopping area, the committee reported at the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The new decorative theme will replace the laurel-wrapped strands of colored lights zig-zagging across streets, a standby of the holiday season for 20 years or more.

The merchants' Christmas committee reported it has purchased 48 of the "silhouette trees," some red and some green. Mounted to the poles with metal brackets, each will be 14 feet above street level in order not to interfere with truck movement.

In connection with the decorative trees, businessmen will continue to use large lighted plastic figures of Santa Claus and his sleigh and reindeer and replicas of St. Nick's face which had been incorporated with the strands of colored lights in the last few years. Most of the existing plastic decorations also will be fastened to utility poles with metal brackets, rather than being suspended in mid-air by wires over the middle of the streets.

The new decorations are called "silhouette trees" because the colored plastic and lights are mounted so as to form the outline of a tree in a long pyrmidal shape. The center of each tree outline is open.

The report of the Christmas activities committee was presented by Leslie Blumenthal, ELMA chairman, in the absence of Harold Allison, chairman of the committee, who is on vacation.

In other business, ELMA agreed that East Liverpool stores will close at noon next Wednesday, Sept. 9, despite the Labor Day holiday. In the past, the practice generally has been to conduct business until 5 p. m. on the Wednesday of a week in which a legal holiday falls, closing the stores.

Wendell H. Vodrey submitted a brief report from the committee on store hours and said a full report will be given at the next meeting Oct. 6.

The businessmen discussed the Dollar Day sale held Aug. 13 and aired plans for fall promotions. The discussion was led by Richard Kerin, head of the promotion committee. There was a discussion on ways in which businessmen might aid the city administration in improving downtown parking conditions.

E. R. Chandler, executive secretary, explained details of a new state law forbidding fraudulent advertising.

3 Former MBS Officials Deny Charge By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three former Mutual Broadcasting System officials have denied federal accusations that they accepted $750,000 to broadcast Dominican Republic propaganda disguised as news.

A federal grand jury indicted the trio here Tuesday. They were charged with failing to register as agents for the Dominican Republic and with conspiring to keep Mutual from registering. The money allegedly was given them around last Feb. 6.

The indictments did not indicate if the network actually did broadcast any propaganda for the Dominican Republic. Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, a key figure in the present Caribbean unrest, is the Dominican strongman.

Two of the officials—Alexander L. Guterma and Garland L. Culpepper Jr.—resigned from Mutual within a week after they accepted the money, the federal grand jury charged. The third, Hal Roach Jr., left Mutual about a month and a half later.

Guterma, an international financier in trouble with the federal government on several other questions involving money matters, was president of Mutual. Roach was board chairman and Culpepper a director.

Scott will not be present as scheduled due to TV commitments, Mrs. Spisak said. Wilson is making arrangements for the "Stereos," a vocal group, to appear. The menu will feature homemade pizza.

A special admission will be charged members and guests and will be set at a meeting of the center's Adult Advisory committee Thursday evening at Mrs. Spisak's home on Ohio Ave.

Eisenhower's Crusade Seen Huge Success

PARIS (AP)—President Eisenhower's new crusade in Europe for Western unity appears to be a big success so far on just about every count. But the real test faces him in France.

Europe's future could be vitally affected by Eisenhower's meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle.

The two old soldiers have known each other from the days of World War II, along the rough road to victory and the rocky road of peace. Now new problems beset them.

On his visits to West Germany and Britain, Eisenhower faced no major disagreements or misunderstandings. In Paris, however, the questions at issue are delicate and far-reaching.

They include:

(1) U. S. support for France in the Algerian war; (2) France's part in shaping Western global policy and her role in NATO; (3) France's ambition to become an atomic power; (4) French uneasiness over Eisenhower's meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Failure to ease these problems could leave France isolated from her allies, a dangerous situation for both France and the Allies.

The Algerian war is of the greatest immediate importance to France. De Gaulle thus far has been unable to end the rebellion against French rule, now in its fifth year.

France wants and needs U. S. support in the United Nations for her Algerian policy. The United States, while sympathetic to France's problem, doesn't want to alienate the Arab world. Both governments would like to reach an understanding before the Arabs bring the Algerian issue before the U. N. this fall.

French demands for an equal voice with the United States and Britain in shaping Allied policy and French plans to become an atomic power by exploding an A-bomb in the Sahara Desert are related. De Gaulle appears to feel that if the test is successful he can claim admission to the atomic club. Presumably a stronger French position in the creation of Western policy would follow.

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union have suspended their nuclear weapon tests while they negotiate slowly toward a ban on such tests. There has been speculation that the Soviets would start testing again if the French explode their weapon.

Obtaining De Gaulle's wholehearted support of the North Atlantic Alliance will require all Eisenhower's persuasive force. To underline his demands for a bigger voice in the alliance, De Gaulle has withheld cooperation on various fronts.

There has been a marked coolness in France to the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting. The French see no lasting good to come of it. There is always the nagging suspicion that international negotiations may be heading toward a two-power basis, leaving France on the outside.

Eisenhower is known to feel his conferences in Britain and West Germany accomplished all the main objectives he had in mind when he left Washington a week ago.

The President also scored great personal popularity triumphs in Britain and Bonn. The general belief seems to be that this contributed substantially to his success in his talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

TOUGHEST SOLDIERS

THE TUSSLE. Enemy bayonets hold little fear for unarmed instructor SP-4 William McCarthy, left, who struggles to take rifle and bayonet (Russian for realism) away from opponent, Cpl. Max Luna. . .

. . .then, with a sudden body twist, McCarthy hurtles Luna seven feet through the air onto his back. He will then impale the enemy with his own weapon.

The Army is quietly training guerrilla forces. In the event of war, they would be sent by submarine, parachute or on foot deep behind the lines to arm, organize and — if necessary — lead native partisans in a campaign of sabotage.

There now are three guerrilla outfits, known as Special Forces Groups — the 1st on Okinawa, the 10th in Germany, and the 77th at Fort Bragg, N. C., where these pictures were taken. They probably number fewer than 2,500 officers and men.

The men are trained to operate exclusively by night. They are qualified parachutists, frogmen and rangers. Any one of them can live off the land whether it be jungle, mountain, desert or arctic waste.

They are experts with bows and arrows and authorities on every type of small arm used in quantity anywhere in the world at any time since World War I.

Most of the guerrillas receive their initial living-off-the-land training in the Pisgah National Forest near Asheville, N. C. They learn to eat snakes, trap and skin small game, and to butcher animals from goats to bears. Before a man is considered qualified as the least trained of the guerrilla team, he must have undergone 33 months of rigorous training.

The end product is a smart, tough and ruthless fighter.

SFC Joseph Lisi practices with bow and arrow, an old but useful weapon. There are times when guerrillas must operate silently, either to gather food or knock over sentries.

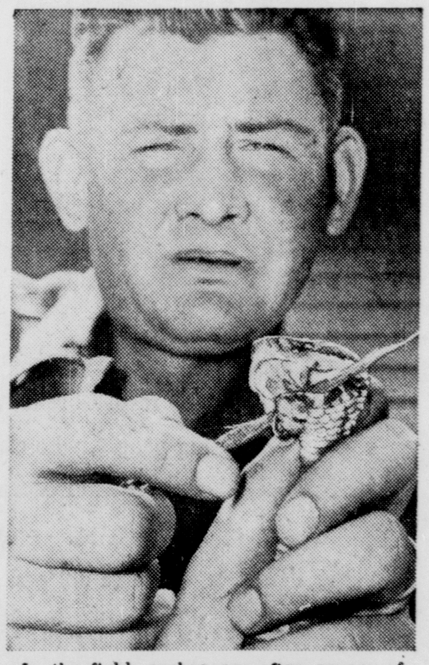

Trussing up a patient for vertical descent is part of training at Fort Bragg. Proper lashing method is demonstrated by Lt. John McDonald atop the "repel tower."

Descending the "repel tower," Lt. John McDonald and SFC Thomas Conway help their stretcher-borne comrade Cecil Nickeson to the ground.

Stretcher and patient go over side for vertical descent as comrades on ground observe exercise. In mountain country, this maneuver could lower wounded man 150 feet straight down in an emergency.

In the field, snakes are often source of food. SFC Roy Lylton pries open the jaws of deadly cottonmouth moccasin. Says Roy: "Moccasin tastes just like chicken."

Can serves as cooking pot as Glen McNeil and Dan Scotten get meal ready while training to live off the land.

M. Duffy, who headed the IBOP for more than 25 years.

The group seeking the vote calls itself a "referendum committee." Duffy said the movement for a referendum originally started in Local 10, turners and handlers, shortly after the IBOP convention in July at Montreal. But the committee now includes members of most local unions in the area, he added.

In a summary of the convention actions published July 30, the union newspaper said in connection with the headquarters proposal: "Report of finance committee recommended going ahead and constructing a new headquarters building on 10-acre plot purchased by IBOP as proposed was adopted."

It also listed a breakdown of the $342,015 cost. On several previous occasions, IBOP officials said only that the new building would be located "in the East Liverpool area."

E. L. Wheatley, IBOP president, was out of town today and unavailable for comment on the building plans or the referendum proposal.

Duffy said the committee expects a crowd at tonight's meeting. In addition to the referendum proposal, the meeting will take up a plan to increase the death benefits to paid-up members' families, he said.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Bowling . . . And Now Bridge

The same guy, Walter Schwimmer, who bequeathed the world televised bowling and televised gold, both of them gigantic and totally unexpected successes, is now coming up with a game for those sedentary athletes, the bridge players.

John Crosby

The program like its predecessors, will be on film and it'll be presided over by that champion bridge player, Charles Goren. The program will be slotted in the only time given over to eggheads—Sunday afternoon, 3:30 p.m., starting Oct. 18, ABC-TV.

The soft-spoken Mr. Goren had hoped to take things easy this year.

"I kept thinking of a remark Maurice Chelalier once made when someone asked how it felt to be 71," said Mr. Goren the other day. "He said, "Wonderful, when you consider the alternative.' So when they asked me to do this show I didn't think I could bow out on account of age." (He's 59.)

-:-

IN THE HALF-HOUR show, three hands will be played in full—one hand summarized—pitting two teams of life master champions against each other. These are all actual bridge hands played just as shown (and then filmed later—but played the same way.)

Goren won't play. He observes from an observation room, commenting on the bidding and play.

The show is not designed to teach beginners. In fact, if you don't play bridge, it won't mean much—it's aimed at bridge nuts who already have lots of bridge under their belts. They might learn something.

There's a $1,000 prize for the winning team, $500 consolation for the losers, and bonus prizes for slams bid and made.

-:-

WE WATCHED the players on the screen and Goren remarked that Helen Sobel, normally his partner, is the greatest woman bridge player in the world.

Generally, he said, women are better bridge players than men but in championship play the men top the women.

How much bridge did he play?

He shrugged: "I play less bridge than the average housewife. I just don't have time now. I'm too busy writing about it."

How do Americans stack up as bridge players against the players from other countries?

"Proportionately, we're behind the Scandinavian countries. Norway and Sweden have a slightly higher percentage of tournament players than we do."

-:-

WE FELL to discussing bridge in general. Was it altogether a game of skill?

"No, the element of luck is very great. What would anyone care about a game where he couldn't possibly win, where only a handful of experts won?

But even where the element of luck is greatly reduced—such as in a tournament where everyone plays the same cards—anyone can win. It just depends on how you play your cards. There's always chance."

Goren said writing about bridge is the only way to make any real money at it.

"In every community there are perhaps half a dozen players who are sufficiently superior to other players to make a living playing bridge—but that's very few in the big picture. Ninety per cent of the players in the United States play without a stake."

Even experts do unexpected things, Goren said.

"One film was shot during hot weather and I think the players started to crack because one man made a bid which made me audibly gasp. Now I have to try to explain the move to the public.

"The man looked like a silly clown but he's not a silly clown. He's a very fine player. I'm going to point out that this was something anyone might do—even a champion."

It ought to make everyone feel much better about his own bridge.

Police Pick Up 3 In Teenage Gang Killing

NEW YORK (AP) — Police picked up three youths today and said one of them said he was the cape-clad "Dracula" who led an attack in which two 16-year-old boys were stabbed to death Sunday.

"Dracula" earned his nickname because he wore a nurse's dark blue cape, which made him resemble the vampire of horror stories and movies.

Police said the youth identified himself as Sal Agron, of Brooklyn.

Police said he did not admit the fatal stabbings but said he "cut somebody" during the attack.

Police said three cruising patrolmen spotted three suspicious looking youths shortly after 2 a.m. today in the Bronx. First the officers collared Agron who, they said, had a knife on him. Then they picked up the other two.

Four youths have already been charged with homicide in the stabbings, and another five youths have been accused of unlawful assembly. Police said all those held are Puerto Ricans.

Police said one of the youths with Agron was Tony Luis Hernandez, of Manhattan. According to police he was the "Umbrella Man," so named because he used an umbrella as a club in the fighting. Both Agron and Hernandez are 17.

Bolt Strikes Oil Tank But None Injured

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Smoke and flames belched 300 feet skyward here Tuesday night after lightning struck an oil storage tank of the Ohio Oil Co.

Firemen battled the blaze with foam and water as nearby residents left their homes. Fire officials feared a violent explosion of the oil.

Suddenly, in mid-evening, after firemen brought the fire under control after fighting it since afternoon, the steel tank collapsed, gushing burning oil and molten metal on the ground.

Fortunately, oil crewmen had pumped out much of the tank's 1,470,000 gallons of oil in an attempt to stop the fire. The falling tank, one of 20 in the area, filled a trench around the area built for just such emergencies.

Flames from the blazing tank, 55 feet high, could be seen for 10 miles.

1958 Crimes In U.S. Were 9.3% Over '57

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crime in the United States increased 9.3 per cent in 1958 over 1957.

The year's crime clock indicated: A murder every 64.2 minutes. A forcible rape every 36.1 minutes. A robbery every 7 minutes. A car stolen every 1.9 minutes. A burglary every 46.4 seconds.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover jointly reported today there were an estimated 1,553,922 crimes classified as very serious offenses last year compared with 1,442,285 in 1957.

There were increases in all of the individual classifications as follows: murder, 8,182 in 1958 and 8,027 in 1957, an increase of 1.9 per cent; forcible rape, 14,561 and 12,886, 13 per cent; robbery, 75,247 and 66,843, 12.7 per cent; aggravated assault, 113,530 and 110,672, 2.6 per cent; burglary, 679,787 and 603,707, 12.6 per cent; larceny over $50, 391,550 and 354,972, 10.3 per cent; auto theft, 270,965 and 265,178, 2.2 per cent.

A crime covered in the index was committed every 20.3 seconds last year.

Youths under 18 represented only 12.1 per cent of all persons arrested. They accounted, however, for 64.1 per cent of all arrests for auto theft, 49.9 per cent of those for burglary, 48.5 per cent of those for larceny, 30.9 per cent of those for receiving or possessing stolen property and 22.8 per cent of those for robbery.

Crime increased more than five times as fast as the population.

There were 896.9 serious crimes committed for every 100,000 population, or one such crime for every 111 citizens.

For every 100 persons formally charged and held for prosecution, 67 were convicted.

Buffalo Wins First Pennant In 10 Years

By The Associated Press

The Buffalo Bisons have their first International League pennant in 10 years today, but it took a castoff from the American Assn. to turn the trick.

Bill Taylor, whom the Bisons bought from Charleston at midseason, delivered a one-out home run in the ninth inning against Montreal Tuesday night to get the Bisons home, 1-0.

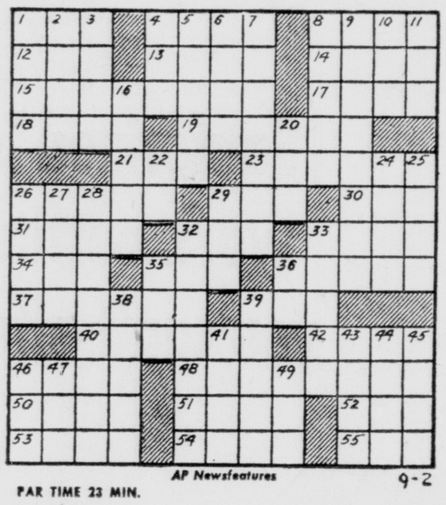

It was only the third hit off loser Babe Birrer. A crowd of 13,455 wached Keerby Farrell's men get the pennant in their 147th game.

In other IL action, Havana edged Richmond 3-2 in 16 innings, Toronto won its fifth game in six starts, 4-1, over Rochester, and Columbus beat Miami 7-4.

Wide Open Race Seen In Ohio Open Tourney

By FRIT HOWELL

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A wide open race for the Ohio Open golf championship was on today as 50 professionals and 21 amateurs swung into the final 36 holes.

A dozen pros and four play-for-fun entrants were bunched within six strokes and any of them could walk off with the top prize.

Jimmy Powell, 24-year-old assistant at the Shaker Heights Country Club, held a one-stroke margin at the end of the first two rounds with 141. The professionals needed a two-day score of 155 and the amateurs 156 to get into today's final session.

Powell, a former Texas Amateur champion who has been in Ohio less than a year, added a 73 Tuesday to his opening 68. He had paced the first round over Dick Howell of Lakewood by a single stroke, but Howell soared to a 78 Tuesday to drop back. The new threat was Hans Merrell, 42-year-old Mogadore pro, who came in through a heavy rain and darkness with a 69 for a 142 total.

Behind the two leaders were Dick Neumann of Willoughby with 143, Joe Kotlarczyk of Fremont with 144, and Denny Carlton of Urbana and Lee Raymond, an unattached Toledo pro, with 145 each.

Chuck Licher Jr., of Findlay, was deadlocked at 146 with defending champion Bob Shave of Cleveland and three-time state public links champion Val Chiaverini of Swanton.

Leading the simon-pure contingent were Graf Mouen and Charley Spross, both of Toledo, and public links champ Art Todd and Ohio State varsity star Mike Podolski, of Columbus, all with 147.

Bad weather and late finishes continued to plague the big field Tuesday. Almost half the group played through a heavy rain and many of the players ended their rounds in almost complete darkness.

The darkness cost Billy Burke, veteran Cleveland pro and former National Open champion, a chance to qualify. He needed a four on the last hole, but played the wrong ball and the penalty put him a stroke over the cutoff mark.

Diller Hanover To Face 14 In Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Seldom beaten Diller Hanover, chief contender for this year's three-year-old trotting championship, faced 14 challengers in today's rich Hambletonian.

Harness racing fans hope for a fast track and a possible record time to erase the 1:59 4-5 last year by Emily's Pride. It rained Tuesday but the forecast was for clear weather.

Post time is 3:30 p. m. (EDT) with succeeding heats hourly until one horse wins two of the one-mile dashes.

This 34th Hambletonian carries a $125,284 gross purse, richest harness race ever. The winner's share is $73,655.

Diller Hanover drew the No. 2 position. That's all the advantage most fans figured he and veteran pilot Frank Ervin will need. Among his main competitors, John A. Hanover and Circo were in the front line, but Diller's stablemate, Tie Silk, was next to the outside in the second tier.

Diller's career record is 23 victories in 34 heats and earnings of $132,117. He won more races last season than any other juvenile and was runner-up in earnings to Circo, second greatest two-year-old money winner of all time.

Diller's regular driver, Ralph Baldwin, fulfilled a contract obligation to drive Tie Silk.

Neither Baldwin nor Ervin have ever won a Hambletonian.

John A. Hanover, driven by Stanley Dancer, is the only Hambletonian entry eligible to win trotting's triple crown. He won the Yonkers Futurity and is eligible for the Kentucky Futurity.

Anchors Away

HENRYETTA, Okla. (AP) — Two small brothers drew a crowd as they coasted down a hill on a metal table with wheels. To stop them, they had a 20-pound cement block tied to a rope which they tossed to the ground like an anchor.

Writer Of Baseball Song Jack Norworth, Dies At 80

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The man who wrote baseball's own song—"Take Me Out to the Ball Game"—died Tuesday night.

He was Jack Norworth, 80, song writer, actor and sports fan—once known as "the King of Vaudeville."

He died of a heart attack at his home in this seaside resort.

Norworth wrote "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" in 1908. He liked to recall that he had never seen a baseball game then and got his inspiration from an advertisement about a game at the Polo Grounds while riding the New York subway.

A baseball executive once said that Norworth's song did more to popularize and sentimentalize baseball than any other single factor in the game's history with the possible exception of Babe Ruth's fabulous bat.

Another of his famous songs was "Shine on Harvest Moon."

He was singing it in his dressing room in a New York theater in 1907 when the musical comedy star, Nora Bayes, stuck her head in the door and said: "I like that song. Will you let me use it my act?"

"Yes," Norworth replied, "if you'll take me along with it. We'll sing it together."

Within a week they were married. They became the highest priced show business team in the world. They were divorced in 1913.

He is survived by his wife, Amy, with whom he recently wrote the song "Las Vegas," and a sister, Mrs. Loren Bodgett of Philadelphia.

Movie actress Betty Grable owns a colt named purple People.

Basilio, Bassey Drop In Ratings After Recent KOs

NEW YORK (AP) — Former champions Carmen Basilio and Hogan (Kid) Bassey, knockout victims in their most recent bouts, have been dropped from the leading contender's position in the latest Ring ratings released today.

Basilio, the erstwhile middleweight titleholder, was dumped from No. 1 to No. 3 as a result of his loss to Gene Fullmer in last Friday's National Boxing Assn. title match. Fullmer moved into the No. 1 spot while Spider Webb of Chicago advanced to second place.

Despite Fullmer's impressive triumph, Ring continues to recognize Sugar Ray Robinson as the 160-pound boss.

Bassey, former featherweight king from Nigeria, tumbled to third place among the 126-pounders. He was stopped by champ Davey Moore in a return go. Ricardo Gonzalez of Argentina took over Bassey's No. 1 post and Harold Gomes of Providence, the junior lightweight champion, climbed into second place.

On Upswing First Seven Months

West Virginia Business Perks Up

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's business economy perked along on the upswing for the first seven months of this year as compared to the same period a year ago, the State Chamber of Commerce said.

The chamber's monthly business index reported 17 of its 20 segments of trade, finance and production showed gains during the seven-month stretch.

For July of 1959, however, the publication said, gains over July, 1958, are recorded in only 14 categories. It added:

"This indicates a current slowing down of relative pace of the economy, but for this the steel strike and the miners' annual vacation are clearly responsible.

"For January - July of 1959, as compared to that period of 1958, payments of aggregate salaries and wages increased 37 million dollars of 3.1 per cent although average non-agriculture employment declined 5 per cent.

"Since January of 1959, coal production has been greater each month than production for the same month of 1958 and for the elapsed period of the year is 3,848,000 tons or 6 per cent ahead of 1958.

"Considering the probable full effects of the steel strike, also the improved coal production trend in the final five months of 1958, it now seems unlikely that the gain in 1959 production over the 118½ million tons produced in 1958 will exceed six million tons.

"For the first seven months of 1959 the value of products manufactured in West Virginia plants increased 96 million dollars or 7.9 per cent over such dollar value for that period of 1958; the dollar volume of building permits issued in 24 cities also rose seven million or 19.6 per cent; sales at retail in 743 reporting outlets increased 4 per cent.

"During this same seven-month period, checking transactions of the state's 95 largest banks increased 290 million dollars or 5.5 per cent as compared with these months of 1958, while receipts of the state's 24 largest post offices rose 22 per cent or $984,000, and collections of the State Treasury from its major sales taxes, namely consumers sales, gross sales and gasoline taxes increases $3,171,000 or 5.2 per cent.

"Electric energy production also increased 608 kwh or 8 per cent; the freight car loadings of seven reporting Class I railroads increased 7.9 per cent; production of lumber rose 7.2 per cent; the dollar value of cash farm income of the state's farmers increased 3.8 per cent, and production of natural gas was up 0.4 per cent during the seven-month period.

"The two other activities in which declines are reported are crude petroleum output, down 1.1 per cent, and the sales of new paid-for ordinary life insurance declined 0.4 per cent."

11 Rail Unions Offer To Scrap Living Cost Escalator Clause

NEW YORK (AP)—Eleven railroad unions have offered to scrap the cost-of-living escalator clauses in their present wage agreements, it was reported today.

But their proposal has brought no acclaim from the railroads, the New York Times said in reporting the move.

The escalator clauses are intended to protect the workers against inflation. Wages are automatically raised or lowered in response to fluctations in the States consumer price index.

The striking United Steelworkers Union of America and labor generally are fighting to keep the clauses, the Times noted.

It added that the employer pressure to abolish the clauses, which now covered four million workers in the nation, is based on a belief that they have added so much money to payrolls that they are inflationary in themselves.

The Times story also said: the proposal to cancel the escalator clauses in future contracts was made by unions representing nearly 700,000 railroad machinists, clerks and other nonoperating employes in connection with their demand last Monday for contract improvements.

What made the proposal unpleasant news for the railroads was the explanation by the unions that they did not intend to bind themselves to any long-term no-strike commitment in the new agreement.

A spokesman for the railroads said they want to get rid of the escalator clause, but without losing the stability of a long-term guarantee against new contract demands.

The five railroad brotherhoods representing engineers, firemen, trainmen, conductors and switchmen have notified the railroads that they want the escalator clause continued.

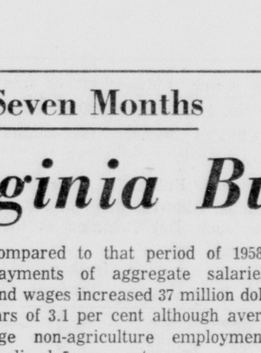

Get Order To Work

CLEVELAND (AP) — Twenty-five projectionists who struck against five major downtown theaters Tuesday were ordered back to work by the international union after the walkout lasted only five hours. The theater contracts with members of Local 160 of the Motion Picture Operators expired at midnight Monday. Negotiations continued.

Today Promises To Be Brighter

Rains Dampen State Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The gates opened today on a somewhat soggy, though active, Ohio State Fair.

Tuesday's rains put the squelch on some of the fair fun, cancelling the grandstand fireworks pageant and several of the harness races.

But today promises to be a brighter day.

Two of the remaining three heats in the Buckeye State Pace will be run today plus other races including the Director of Agriculture Pace.

Edgewood Royal won the first heat of the Buckeye pace Tuesday, going the mile in 2:05. The two-year-old is owned by W. L. Regan of Wilmington, Ohio.

Despite intermittent downpours, the judges continued Tuesday to hand out prizes in the various events scattered about the fair.

Arthur Hansen and his daughter, Lois Jean, of Bellevue, won the $2,000 Ohio Guernsey Futurity with their livestock entry. The prize was $400.

Duan Hauke, 15, of Mowrystown, repeated as Ohio's Angus Queen, showing the grand champion Angus female again at the Junior Fair.

Angus King is Gerald Miller, 19, of Luckey.

Mike Slane of Van Wert took both reserve championship steer and angus titles.

In the Shropshire sheep show, W. R. Krout & Sons, Rt. 3, Findlay, took the ram yearling crown and F. M. Schultz, Rt. 1, Degraff, had the champion ewe.

Howard Parrish, 16, of Montpelier, ran his total to seven championships and three trophies with his Duroc hogs.

Tom Brooks of Rt. 3, Delaware, took the grand champion Holstein Virgil Studebaker of Rt. 2, New Carlisle. Larry O'Dell of Greenville took the heifer calf crown; Gary Fairchild of Rt. 1, Marion, the junior yearling title, and Paul Howman, of Rt. 1, Lodi, the senior yearling heifer honors.

Robert Snively of McComb took top individual honors in the FFA sheep show, displaying the champion ewe and ram of the Oxford breed and the champion ewe in the Hampshire breed.

Other FFA championship winners:

Walter Kulwein, Columbus, Shropshire ewe and ram.

Ray Jack, Johnstown, Merino ewe and ram.

David Davis, Cardington, Southbound ewe and ram.

Darel Hathaway, Fredericktown, Dorset ewe.

Russell Johnson, Hillsboro, Dorset ram.

Ronald Headlee, Columbus, Columbia ewe.

Robert Gerber, Upper Sandusky, Columbia ram.

John Jorden, Sullivan, Cheviot ram, ewe and lamb and grand champion ewe of the Junior Fair.

James Hefner, Lafayette, Suffolk ram and ewe.

Phillip Alligire, Galion, Montadale ewe and ram.

Terry Chappell, Cridersville, Corriedale ewe and ram.

Dwight Gerken, Deshler, Hampshire ram.

Winning the most useful dog award was Madge, owned by Earl McAdams of Wapakoneta.

Best county exhibit of hay award went to Washington County, with Clark and Crawford counties second and third, respectively.

The grand champion for bale hay is Russell S. Bishop of Findlay. Reserve champion is Howard Arnold, Waterford.

Best county exhibits of silage hay came from Wayne, Auglaize and Clark counties, in that order. The grand champion for silage is Willard Stoll of Marshallville. Reserve grand champion is Richard Bambauer, New Knoxville.

Cynthia Krickenberger, of Greenville, took the 4H and FFA red poll honors.

FFA champion Chester White gilt was shown by Gary Stonehill of Spencerville. Harry Squires of Fredericktown showed the champion FFA boar.

Spotted Poland China championships went to Larry Longbeck of Fremont and Jack Feher of Prospect.

Grand champion honors for the fair's bovine beauty, in the milking shorthorn class, went to H. C. Wiemken and Son, Defiance. Reserve grand championship was won by Willard Guckian and Sons, Eaton.

The championship award for both senior and junior heifers was won by Welcome In Farm, Dublin.

Miami Beach Hotel Seeks State Approval

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) —A plush Miami Beach hotel has asked the state cabinet for authority to build an over-the-ocean sundeck almost half an acre in size to get its guests out of the shade of a rival hotel next door.

The Eden Rock complained that an addition to the Fontainbleau will throw a shadow every afternoon on its cabana and open sun area.

Cabinet members postponed action Tuesday. They said the legal questions needed study.

Hits Obscene Material

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has taken a step toward strengthening the postmaster general's hand in dealing with the mailing of obscene material. It passed legislation Tuesday more than doubling the time that questionable matter can be held up. The bill, which now goes to the Senate, would add 25 days to the present 20 days that challenged mail can be impounded. And the mailer would be required to prove that the impounding was improper before the action could be contested.

Three district men have enlisted in the Army for three years, Sgt. Emuel Bosley, local recruiter, said today.

The recruits are at Ft. Jackson, S. C., for eight weeks of basic training before going into specialized training.

John C. Akers Jr., son of Mrs. Mary E. Justice, 818 Daisy Ln., selected armored forces for his duty, Sgt. Bosley said.

Enlisting under the graduate specialist program whereby high school graduates enlist directly into the school of their choice were Thomas J. Pisarsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter P. Pisarsky of Hammondsville R. D. 1, and James V. Bonam, son of Mrs. Betty M. Hinton of Foundry Hill, Salineville.

Both are 1959 graduates of Salineville High School. Pisarsky selected field carrier equipment repair school, a 25-week course in electronics, and Bonam selected an 18-week school in automotive mechanics.

Cigarette Seen Cause Of Fire In Auto Seat

City firemen extinguished a fire in the rear seat of a car owned by Mary Springer of Wellsville Tuesday afternoon at 2:46 at 4th St. and East Alley.

A booster line was used. Firemen said the entire interior was damaged by smoke and heat. The blaze is believed to have been started by a lighted cigarette.

Firemen were notified at 10:40 p. m. when a neon sign shorted at the Horsley Studio, 621 Broadway, a few doors from Central Station. Firemen had a caretaker disconnect the wiring.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a good job of cleaning ashtrays?

A. Some denatured alcohol, a stiff brush, and lots of scrubbing makes a good formula that will clean either brass or copper ashtrays which are discolored by tobacco and nicotine.

Q. How can I make a chocolate icing that will harden easily in warm weather?

A. Buy a cake of milk chocolate and melt over hot water. It will be a delicious substitute if used as a frosting, and is also cheaper than icing.

Q. How can I avoid rusting of tinware?

A. Tinware will not rust, no matter how much it is in water if the surface is rubbed with lard, then thoroughly heated before using.

His duties will include supervision of the county bookmobile which serves rural schools and communities.

Mrs. Vincent has been librarian here since 1939 except for 5 years in the 1940's when she worked at Salem Public Library. Prior to coming to this area, she was a librarian in Tacoma and Seattle, Wash., for several years.

August Pike Revenue Sets New Record

CLEVELAND (AP) — August revenue on the Ohio Turnpike reached almost three million dollars and would have been higher except for the effects of the steel strike.

James W. Shocknessy, turnpike chairman, said Tuesday revenue of $2,942,600 set a new record for the second straight month, beating July's mark by $116,913. He said the steel strike resulted in 20,000 fewer trucks using the toll road, but that the 1,333,200 passenger cars last month surpassed the one-month high of August, 1958 by 41,051.

Peaceful And Restful

Water Wagon View's Good

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — In middle age about the only exercise some men get is climbing on the water wagon—and falling off.

After more than a quarter century of traveling the cocktail circuit—purely in the line of duty naturally—I find myself spending more and more of my time — by choice — high and dry on the old wagon.

My reason is quite simple. I like the change of view it gives, and am getting to like it more and more.

My initiation into the cup that cheers goes back to the Prohibition days when people sat around in dimly lit apartments gulping home brew out of kitchen pans at 35 cents a pan. It was fun merely because it was illegal. The beer was green, strong enough to curdle all four stomachs of the average cow.

Later, as a cub reporter, it was pure joy to stand at the bar drinking two - for - a - quarter shots of amber spirits of grain while listening to the colorful old-timers tell how life was like in the good old days.

But one by one—in this city, in that city—the old-timers took their last one for the road, and the road never led back.

The era of social drinking came in, and the trouble with social drinking is that it isn't really social—and it isn't really drinking.

Barroom camaraderie began to disappear when they took the sawdust off the floor and started admitting women.

A coeducational saloon is like a coeducational barber shop. It is an anachronism, and has no place in an ordered world.

There is another good reason for climbing the wagon. It is more peaceful and restful.

Twenty-five years ago the taverns were inhabited by wise and witty men who said wonderful things in a wonderful way. The conversation in a tavern today is downright boring. All the people there want to do is tell each other their personal woes. The bartender has become a wet nurse and a psychiatrist.

What is life like to a man still getting used to a high dry perch?

Well, sometimes, he does get a bit lonely for the camaraderie of vanished times, but they are times that vanished years ago. His evening now and then gets a bit monotonous, but he has wonderful mornings.

He goes to bed feeling good and wakes up feeling fine. Life holds a new awareness. He now has time to do all the things he's wanted to do, and he does them. He reads more books, goes to more plays.

In a way it's like being born again. Nothing is stale. Everything is new, as if he were seeing the world for the first time.

He feels no urge to join a temperance league or take up Carrie A. Nation's hatchet, but he does mildly wonder why in heaven he didn't clamber up the wagon sooner—so he'd have a longer joyride.

Increased Five-Fold

Marble Making Comeback

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Marble is making a comeback. Since the end of World War II sales in this country have increased five-fold.

Marble-top tables and other furniture have caught popular fancy — the old ones as collectors' items, and new applications for modern furniture.

But its revival as a building material sparks even more interest. Architects stress that new applications and preparations make marble less costly than it once seemed.

After several years of almost total eclipse marble is on the way back in competition with other building materials in commercial construction. It also is being more widely used in residential building, where once it was all but banned, largely on grounds of cost.

Along with availability of thinner, less costly forms of marble, one big talking point today is the low maintenance cost of the stone in an age when labor charges are a growing item.

The Marble Institute of America says its 110 marble contractor and dealer members handle most major construction in this country and about 50 per cent of the residential use. It reports tonnage production of domestic quarries is up 20 per cent since 1954.

But imports are gaining faster. About half of all marble used in the United States is imported, compared with 30 per cent in 1954. Most of the finishing of imported marble is done here. There are 15 major producers in the United States and most of them also are importers.

Fifteen years of experimenting have paid off in more efficient and economical ways of using the material. The industry can now cut marble slabs thin enough for the current style of thin walls. It can offer a metal-framed sandwich panel. This has a marble exterior finish, backed by a core of rigid insulation. The interior finish is Masonite or asbestos with a cement bond.

These three-inch panels are said to look like three inches of solid marble, yet they weigh less than one-third that much and are highly resistant to noise and weather changes.

A ⅞-inch marble slab is available for interior partitions. Marble slabs are being used as lateral or horizontal fins on buildings. A market is growing for half-inch marble tiles for interior use, or for exterior use.

Home builders are told that marble floors are good conductors for radiant heating systems. White marble chips are touted for protection or for heat reflection on flat roofs or modern domes. Research is under way on how crushed marble can be used in highway construction or in various chemical processes.

2 Phone Companies Get Order On Circuit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Northern Ohio Telephone Co. and the Nova Telephone Co. have been directed to bring an additional direct long distance circuit into service between Sullivan (Ashland County) and Ashland.

The Utilities Commission ordered installation of the toll circuit after subscribers asked for additional service equipment. The equipment for the new circuit is expected Oct. 2.

The commission said it will continue to look into the matter at a Nov. 30 hearing. It told the companies to study the adequacy and speed of toll service originating in Nova and Sullivan and routed through Ashland or Wellington.

Keep Up On News Of Education

According to a recent issue of "Better Schools," voters have generally been approving school bonds. Totals for April, lately released by the Investment Bankers Association, show that voters approved, the nation over, $171 million in school bonds during that month, or 83.6 per cent of the appropriation presented to them. The average rate of approval since September, 1958, has been around 80 per cent, appreciably higher than for a comparable period the previous year. In this same issue of "Better Schools" appear highly informative news items:

By Garry Meyers

"Killian Group Makes Sweeping Recommendations," based on the report of President Eisenhower's Science Advisory Committee; "Education for the Age of Science," which recommends that the nation's annual investment in education be at least doubled; that Americans should attach more importance to intellectual emphasis; that we should do more to enhance the prestige of teachers; that more should be done to adapt our educational program to the differing mental abilities, especially of the gifted; that we should improve our scientific education at all levels.

AGAIN, ONE reads that Dr. Conant, who lately published his study on the American high school (grades 9 to 12), has announced a similar study by him in progress on the seventh and eighth grades in addition to science instruction in all the 12 grades.

"New Currents in Teacher Education" is another stimulating, informative article in the same issue of "Better Schools." A program promoted by the Ford Foundation emphasizes more general and liberal education for future teachers:

More education (in facts), less "education"; more similarity in teacher training colleges comparable to that between hospitals and medical schools; more new teacher training techniques, as internship, teaching teams and aids and visual-auditory helps; long-range financing of teacher education, including payment by school systems of trainees before certification.

THEN THERE'S a feature on "Labor, Schools Co-operate in Many Ways," encouraging the community to support the schools and youths to stay in school, and the schools to prepare youths for growing demands for craftsmanship.

In any issue of this educational newspaper, which carries no advertising, are scores of newsy, informative articles on what is happening in education in the United States. It is the most informative publication of its kind I know about and is written in language any parent can understand. It is published monthly by the National Citizens Council for Better Schools, 9 East 40th Street, N. Y. 16, N. Y.

My bulletin "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School" may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Youthful Voice Told Gambling Unlawful

CORPUS CHRISITI, Tex. (AP) —"Is it against the law to shoot birds with slingshots in the city?" a youthful voice asked police dispatcher Jerry Mathis.

Mathis said it was.

"That's what I thought," the caller said. "I win a 50-cent bet."

"Did anyone ever tell you it's against the law to gamble, too?" Mathis asked.

The caller hung up.

Attorneys, Chief Justice Discuss Pleas Judge Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Four Fairfield County attorneys huddled privately with Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt Tuesday in a discussion of allegations that Fairfield County Common Pleas Judge Harry Kilburger is prejudiced and is less than prompt in meting out justice.

Weygandt said later the discussion was informal and that no immediate action is planned.

The chief justice said Ralph K. Rockwood Jr., president of the Fairfield County Bar Assn. and one of the four attorneys who visited him, reported he has appointed a special committee to deal with charges included in an affidavit of bias and prejudice filed against Judge Kilburger by Albert E. Savoy, Savoy also attended Tuesday's discussion.

Others who accompanied Rockwood to the meeting are Abram Cunix and Edgar A. Silbaugh.

Rockwood reported to Weygandt that the special committee already has accomplished much and expects to accomplish more in "the next few weeks." Weygandt said he plans to withhold further action on Savoy's affidavit until the special committee reports. He added he expects the report in two or three weeks.

Ex-TV Actress Seeks $500,000 In Damage Suits

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Janet Greenroos, former television performer, asks damages totaling $500,000 in suits filed Tuesday which contend she was arrested falsely.

The suits named as defendants Mortimer C. Watters, vice president and general manager of WCPO-TV, and Scripps - Howard Radio Inc., operator of the station.

The suits contend Mrs. Greenroos was arrested outside the station last Oct. 28, the day after she was fired as the Cinderella of a children's TV program. A jury acquitted her of a disorderly conduct charge last Jan. 28.

Mrs. Greenroos asserted in the suits that the arrest harmed her reputation and character and impaired her career as an actress and entertainer.

Bunning Halts White Sox Pennant Dash With 3-Hitter, 4-0

Rain-Idled Indians Gain, Lag Now By 5

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Add another chapter to the strange career of Jim Bunning, the lean right-hander who was a surprise 20-game winner two years ago, then pitched a no-hit masterpiece—and faded.

Tuesday night he shut out Chicago's streaking, first-place White Sox, one of the toughest clubs to blank in the American League, putting them away on three singles and ending their winning string at five as Detroit took a 4-0 victory.

It was Bunning's first shutout in 45 starts since July 20, 1958—the day he no-hit Boston 3-0. It was only the sixth time this season that the White Sox, their edge over rain-idled Cleveland cut to five games, have been held scoreless.

Ted Kluszewski had two of the White Sox' hits. Luis Aparicio had the other as Bunning, now 14-10, bagged his fifth straight victory.

It also was the Tigers' fifth success in a row, matching their best streak of the year, and retained their one-game hold on third place over New York. The Yankees defeated Baltimore 5-0 as Whitey Ford and reliever Ryne Duren combined for a seven-hit shutout. Washington beat Boston 7-4, with Harmon Killebrew regaining a share of the major league home run lead with his 39th.

In the National League, right-hander Larry Jackson shut out Los Angeles on two hits as St. Louis beat the second-place Dodgers 3-0. Philadelphia defeated third-place Milwaukee 5-3. Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were rained out.

While Bunning continued his spell over the White Sox—He has beaten them four in a row over the past year and nine times out of 10 over five seasons—the Tigers added to their hex over Bob Shaw. The young right-hander, who broke in with Detroit in '57, has beaten every club but the Tigers. Now 14-5 for the season, he's 0-3 against Detroit.

The Tigers tagged him for nine of their 12 hits and all their runs in his five innings, giving Bunning the run he needed in the first inning when Larry Osborne singled, Harvey Kuehn doubled and Al Kaline hit a sacrifice fly. Kuenn was 4-for-5, upping his AL leading average five points to .356.

Five singles gave the Yankees three first-inning runs against loser Jerry Walker. They got their other two against Arnie Portocarrero in the ninth. Ford (14-7) gave up six hits, giving way in the seventh when the Orioles twice loaded the bases. The Birds had three on again in the ninth before Duren put it away.

Killebrew's homer, tying Cleveland's Rocky Colavito for the lead, gave the Senators a 4-2 lead in the seventh inning. They nailed it with three runs in the eighth, two on Roy Sievers' double. Camilo Pascual (13-10) won it with Tex Clevenger's relief help. The Nats were outhit 13-8, but collected 11 walks, eight by loser Earl Wilson (1-1) in 3 1-3 innings.

Former Glenmoor Athletes Recall Playing At ELHS

Glenmoor athletes who won their letters in the days when Doak Walker was running wild for Southern Methodist gathered at a reunion Saturday in Thompson Park to reminisce about their playing days at East Liverpool High School.

The ahtletes and their families — members of the former Glenmoor Athletic Club which was disbanded in 1951 — made plans to meet together each year in the future. Sixty attended the outing.

Among the former ELHS athletes introduced were Nick Trua, a winner of the Bill Booth award and now a construction worker in Warren; Howard Martin, a machinery firm salesman in Marion, and Don Glenn, a New Philadelphia architect. Don Béulke of Johnstown, Pa., also was present. The Rev. Schneidmiller of West Newton, Pa., was unable to attend.

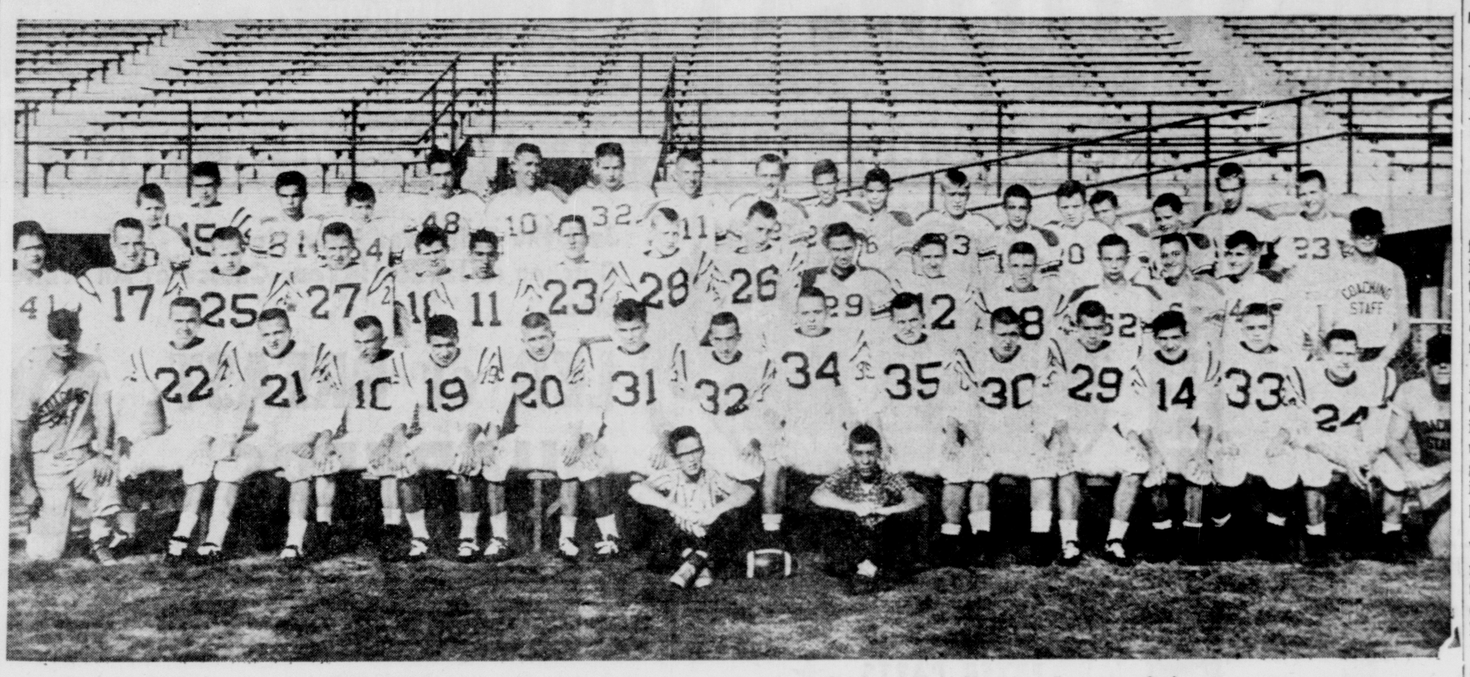

Prizes in games and athletic contests were won by Mrs. Ralph Henderson and Martin, a former Kent State University gridder.

The reunion was arranged by a committee which included Ralph Henderson, Ken Schneidmiller, Eddie Barborak and Bill Schneidmiller, who played four years of minor league baseball in the St. Louis Cardinal chain.

Bob McQuiston of Glenmoor, who helped organize the club about 1948, was an honored guest. Bill Schneidmiller served as master of ceremonies. Next year's reunion was planned tentatively for the first Saturday in August.

Grid Injury Fatal

TRINIDAD, Colo. (AP)—An accident on the first day of football practice took the life Tuesday of Tom Gentner, 19, promising Trinidad Junior College freshman from Tucson, Ariz. His larynx was shattered when struck by another player's elbow during a conditioning drill. He died on the field.

Tribe To Keep Eye On Score

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians will watch Herb Score carefully tonight, hoping to see the left-hander display a spark of his once brilliant form.

Score, with a 9-10 record this season, hasn't started a game since Aug. 15, when the Detroit Tigers drove him from the box in the third inning after collecting five runs.

A 20-game winner in 1956, Score was lost during the 1957 season when hit in the eye by a batted ball. A sore arm kept him sidelined much of last season.

He showed flashes of winning form earlier this season, then developed trouble getting the ball over the plate.

Score will start tonight against Kansas City. He will be opposed by Ned Garver (9-10). Both were scheduled to pitch Tuesday night's contest, but it was rained out and rescheduled as part of a twi-night doubleheader Sept. 25.

"If Score does a good job against Kansas City, I'll come back with him in Chicago Sunday," said Joe Gordon, Indians' manager.

Gordon, who still has hopes of catching the league-leading White Sox, picked Jim Perry to open against the White Sox and Early Wynn Friday. Cal McLish will hurl for the second-place Indians Saturday.

Despite Chicago's four - game sweep of last weekend's series in Cleveland, Gordon notes that "if the White Sox lose a couple to Detroit and then we beat 'em three straight, we're right back in it."

The Tigers cooperated with Gordon's plan Tuesday night by whipping the White Sox 4-0, trimming Chicago's lead over Cleveland to five games.

The Indians will have had plenty of time off when they meet the White Sox Friday. Thursday is an off day on Cleveland's schedule. With the rainout Tuesday, Cleveland will have played only one game between the two weekend series with Chicago.

Offensive Threats Return

Lisbon Prospects Bright With 14 Lettermen Back

LISBON — With two of their main offensive threats returning this season, the Lisbon High Blue Devils may give East Palestine a run for their money in the Tri-County League.

Veteran Coach Bud Bucher has his pair of halfbacks returning in Tom Brooks and Denny Johnson, Brooks was one of the top scorers in the district last season as he and Johnson tallied 13 touchdowns between them.

The biggest loss from the 1958 squad was Denny Reese, who was fourth leading scorer in the district last year.

In 12 seasons at Lisbon, Bucher never has had a losing record. Last year his team won 5 while losing 4. His overall record is 92 wins, 23 losses and 5 ties.

The Lisbon mentor was greeted by 14 lettermen, including six starters, from last year. Fullback Jack Williams (175), end Bill Reison (165), tackle Charles Faust (220), center Jim Tanner (190) and guards Jack Brooks (150) and Steve Frew (170) are the starters returning.

Among other letter winners are backs Paul Fry (180), John Sowards (150) and Ricky Bowling (160), guard Dennis Roberts (150), tackle Bill McKelvey (195) and end Paul McLaughlin (185).

Bucher expects to field a heavier team which will average over the 175 mark, with boys like Faust at 220 and McKelvey and Tanner at 195 and 190, respectively.

Lisbon will open its season Sept. 18 at home against Goshen Union, then will travel to Minerva for its Tri-County League opener on Sept. 25.

Gary Pike, the all-around athlete at Lisbon several years ago, is replacing Jack Mills as an assistant. Other assistants to Bucher include Jack Lewis and Dave Borrow.

Montreal Group Seeks Spot In Third League

MONTREAL (AP) — A group of Montreal businessmen has applied for a franchise in the projected third major baseball league.

Rain Slows Amateur Bid

CINCINNATI (AP)—An abridged field tries anew today to complete the last 18 holes in the annual scramble for berths at the National Amateur golf tournament.

Rain washed out plans to complete the Cincinnati region qualifier Tuesday at the 6,676-yard, par 35-35—70 layout of Camargo Country Club.

When officials called a halt Tuesday, six of more than 60 starters had completed the second round. Officials decided to cancel those six second rounds and have the whole field try again today.

Paul Dye of Indianapolis led the first round with a two-under-par 68.

Six other players covered the first 18 holes with scores of 72 or better. The eight lowest 36-hole scores earn trips to the National.

Don Albert of Columbus, one-time Big Ten champ at Purdue, fired a 70. Tony Blom of Cincinnati, current state amateur king, tied with Jack Nicklaus of Columbus at 71.

Irin Rubin of Hamilton shot 38-37—75.

At Akron, qualifying for four more National Amateur spots was completed Tuesday.

Edward L. Meister, longtime Cleveland golfer, led at Congress Lake Country Club with a 1-under-par 71-70—141 yesterday.

Two other Cleveland golfers qualified—Mark McCormack with 70-73—143 and Warren K. Ornstein at 75-70—145. Don Carmichael of Columbus clinched the fourth berth with 73-74—147.

Pittsburgh Speedway Sets Friday Race Card

A 75-lap championship event will headline Friday night's racing card at the Greater Pittsburgh Speedway in Clinton.

A full card of events will be presented in addition to the 75-lap feature. Hardtop drivers will have a chance to run for an added purse, while a special 25-lap feature event is planned for the crash drivers.

Tom Lewis of East Liverpool is in fourth place among the point leaders with 181. Russ Allen of Canfield is the leader.

Track, Field Phase Winds Up In Pan-Am

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The track and field phase of the third Pan-American Games ends today, but not the crunching United States' victory march which in five days of competition has produced 33 gold medals for Uncle Sam.

As the U.S.A.'s Olympic-pointing track squad seeks a last batch of titles in a seven-even program in Soldier Field, an equally powerful American swimming legion gets down to championship action in the spanking new Portage Park pool.

The one-sidedness of this 10-day Western Hemisphere athletic carnival is underscored by the fact that, beyond the United States, the only other gold medal winners have been Cuba, with two, and West Indies, Argentina, Mexico and Chile with one each.

As the U.S.A. completes its romp in track and field in huge Soldier Field where the blazing Pan-American torch blows out next Monday, Coach Jack Werner is downright embarrassed over his squad's almost complete domination of the games.

"And we're doing this without several great athletes who will be contenders for the Olympic Games in Rome next year," said Werner.

Paced by world shotput champion Parry O'Brien and steeplechaser Phil Coleman, the U.S.A. grabbed five more track gold medals Tuesday night. Three American women won titles, including Lucinda Williams, the flash from Tennessee State, whose 200-meter triumph made her a double sprint winner; broad jumper Anne Smith; and high jumper Ann Flynn.

O'Brien and Coleman hung up impressive new Pan-Am records, 62-5½ in the shotput and 8:56.4 in the 3,000-meter steeplechase. Miss Smith notched a meet mark with an 18-9¾ broad jump.

In all, the U.S.A. now has won 14 of the 16 men's events and 7 of the 9 women's events, setting 11 new meet records for men and 4 for women.

However, there was a little change of pace Tuesday night as George Kerr, Big Ten star from the University of Illinois, led a 1-2-3 sweep for the West Indies in the 400 meter, and Cuba's Berta Diaz won the 80 meters women's hurdles in a record 11.2 time.

Cards Blank Dodgers, 3-0; Braves Lose

By ED WILKS

You'd think those Los Angeles Dodgers have a mental block when it comes to closing in on the National League lead.

Start in May. They were tied for first in mid-month, then lost five in a row and fell to fourth. It took 'em more than a month to get within a game of the top on June 28 after winning nine of 10. Then they lost four out of five.

They were only a half-game shy at the first All-Star game break. Then they lost five out of seven. Twelve days later, they were just a half-game behind only to lose three out of four.

They were first by a half-game July 29, then skidded to third. On August 8 they were only a half-game from first. Then they lost three straight.

Now they've missed again. After winning four of five, including two out of three from San Francisco, they had a chance to close within a half-game of the idle first-place Giants Tuesday night.

So what happens? Old nemesis Larry Jackson shut 'em out with a two-hitter and St. Louis was a 3-0 winner, dropping the Dodgers 1½ games behind.

The Giants made hay all around. Philadelphia cracked third--place Milwaukee 5-3, on pitcher Don Cardwell's two-run homer in the ninth. That left the Braves three games behind and just a half-game ahead of Pittsburgh's Pirates, whose game with Cincinnati was rained out.

In the American League, Detroit's Jim Bunning blanked Chicago 4-0, cutting the White Sox' edge over rain-idled Cleveland to five games. New York beat Baltimore 5-0 and Washington defeated Boston 7-4.

Jackson, 28, a right-hander with only a 51-50 record in the majors, upped his career record against the Dodgers to 12-5 while handing them their fifth shutout. He walked two, struck out four for a 12-12 season mark.

The Cards had only four hits, but two were home runs. Ken Boyer's 26th, a second-inning shot that extended his hitting streak to 20 games, ended Johnny Podres' winning string at four. Podres (12 8) also gave up Alex Grammas' third homer in the fourth inning and a double in the sixth by Don Blasingame, who stole third and scored on Grammas' squeeze bunt.

Cardwell, who had managed just one hit in 43 at bats this year, discarded his regular 30-ounce bat, picked up a 40-ounce cannon and tagged Bob Buhl's first pitch for the tie-breaking homer at Milwaukee. His only other home run in the majors came when he was a rookie in '57.

The big right-hander, now 9-7 with his fourth straight victory, allowed only six hits, including Ed Mathews' 36th home run and Joe Adcock's 22nd.

Buhl (11-9) had a two-hit shutout until the sixth, when the last place Phils scored three runs, two on Gene Freese's triple.

By R. L. LIDE

Fishing at Zepernick Lake has not been what I would call good, but on the other hand there are some large bass and bluegills in the lake and apparently only a few people know how to get them.

For instance, Clyde Bailey of Salem is a fisherman who needs only to know where there are fish and he solves the problem of how to catch them.

Clyde tells me he has landed 15 bass from 2 to 3 pounds at Zepernick's and catches bass every trip he makes to the lake. The lure he swears by is the "Skinny-Minny" imitation blue mullet which was made to be used while fishing in salt water.

Last Sunday, during all the rain, Clyde was out in the back end of the lake among the spatter dock (lilly pads) and landed two more bass. Although he does his fishing out in the lake with waders, the waders meant very little during the rain and he said he was as wet inside as outside.

Another trick he uses to get some of those 9-inch bluegills is to fasten about a 3-foot leader to the "skinny-minnie" and attach a small 'gill fly.

This might be called "two-way" fishing — bass hit the lure while bluegills hit the fly. He reports he has seen some of the eastern chain pickerel in the lake that were stocked this year and they appear to be about 11 inches long.

—:—

I READ with interest an article written by an outdoor writer for an out-of-town newspaper. He quotes a group of sportsmen that Ohio quail are inbred and inbreeding is the cause of a great decline in the quail population. Now plans are to buy new stock to release among the native quail in order to improve the quality.

This is contrary to all biological facts provided by the leading game technicians of Ohio as well as other states.

If you, as an individual, want the latest information about Ohio quail write to the Ohio Division of Wildlife and let them know the information you want and you can get pamphlets etc., on practically any subject dealing with the bobwhite quail.

Quail don't inbreed so to speak. The Ohio quail is just as heavy now as since the records were begun back in the 1800's, or in fact a wee bit heavier.

You might see a quail running along ahead of your car that looks real skinny during this time of the year. Could be an immature or an adult with the feathers close to his body.

During the winter you might see a quail along the berm of the road with his feathers all puffed out and he would be pronounced a very large, healthy quail.

Inbreeding does not affect quail nor fish. Fish might become small due to overcrowding or lack of food, but once removed from an overpopulated lake and placed in a new pond he will grow to normal size, providing he is not ready to die of old age already.

Quail remain the same, but it is only logical to say they would die if they did not have food as well as cover.

All things being equal, quail will reproduce each year as long as the brood stock is present. The inference that Ohio quail are small, inbred runts and not the healthy birds of 46 years ago just doesn't hold water according to the facts at hand. How to propagate quail and to increase the numbers is a new adventure for the Ohio Game Technicians.

Bevington Has Perfect Score In Archery Tournament

A perfect score in an 80-yard walkup event by John Bevington highlighted the final trophy shoot of the Beaverkettle Bowmen's Club over the weekend at the club grounds near Fredericktown.

Bevington, who was the first to accomplish the feat in the first year of Beaverkettle Bowmen's activity, hit the target with arrows fired from 80, 70, 60 and 50 yards.

However, Bevington had to concede top honors for the shoot to Joe Martell of the White Feather Bowmen and also the Beaverkettle club. Martell's score was a 919.

Don Chesko of the Sunflower Archery Club of Rochester won second place and James Onuska of White Feather was third.

Winners of each event, listed in order of finish, were:

325 Class—Bob Morrell, Bevington, and Bob Talbott, 250 Class — Bill Sturgeon, John Black and Kenny Alford; 175 Class,—Steve McCornish, Chuck Heckathorn and Doug Campbell.

100 Class—Frank Morrell, Herm Miller and John Satterfield; Free Style—Carl Martell, Bob Chesko and Frank Chesko;

Intermediate—Carl Flasko; Junior—Roger Barney and Frank Tepovich.

Twenty pins were awarded to Sturgeon, J. Cunningham, Martell, Kyser, Frank Chesko, B. Morrell and Bevington.

Wynn Hawkins Whips Atlanta For 13th Win

New Waterford's Wynn Hawkins has registered his 13th victory of the season in the Southern Association for Mobile, Ala., by defeating Atlanta, 3-2.

The slender righthander now has a 13-8 record for the season. Hawkins has pitched in 38 games, hurled 210 innings and fanned 144 batters. His earned run average is 2.66. Mobile is in first place during the second half race in the league.

West Point Sportsmen Plan Meeting Sept. 13

WEST POINT — The West Point Rod and Gun Club will meet Sept. 13 at 8 p. m. in the home of Steve Barborak, newly-elected president.

Other new officers include Herb Chuck, vice president; Bill Hasson, secretary; Ronnie Dukes, treasurer, and Jay Chuck, Shelton Brownfield, Don Possage, Steve Barborak Jr., and Ed Chuck, trustees.

Brown Admits Concern Over Pass Catching

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Coach Paul Brown admits concern over a department in which his Cleveland Browns figured to be strong—pass receiving.

Cleveland's first-line receivers, flanker back Ray Renfro and end Billy Howton, haven't performed up to expectations.

Renfro, in his eighth season as a professional, dropped two passes in last Sunday's 17-14 loss to the San Francisco 49ers. On one of the plays, he was behind the defenders and a catch would have meant a touchdown.

Howton, the same size as Renfro, six feet and 188 pounds, caught his first long pass of the exhibition season Sunday for 34 yards. He was acquired from the Green Bay Packers.

Although Howton and Renfro are playing below par, Coach Brown has been impressed with his reserve receivers — Frank Clarke and rookie Gene Cook. Both are speedsters and Cook, who played college football at Toledo, picked up the pass patterns in a hurry.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a guest in your country. But since "speaking out" seems to be an American custom I'm going to be quite American for the moment. I will not name my own country as I do not wish to strain diplomatic relations.

The social hoax in America known as the cocktail party is not only frightfully boring, it is soul destroying. Why do you Americans put up with it? Are you so sick and socially insecure that you must tolerate inane banter, pointless chatter, not to mention horrible hors d'oeuvres, in order to see and to be seen?

Your women look as if their feet hurt but they must keep smiling because of a hidden camera in the room. And your men — laughing at old jokes and bragging about business — they are even more pathetic.

You Americans are trying to buy culture and assume a position of world leadership — but one look at your cocktail parties persuades me you won't make it for at least 500 years.—FOREIGNER.

-:-

Dear Foreigner: Since you already think Americans are crude, phony and dull, I won't hurt diplomatic relations much by suggesting that you put your nose back in joint.

I've been to cocktail parties in other countries and the crowd looks pretty much the same the world over. The women martini drinkers in England and France wear the same bored smiles. And the men in Switzerland and Italy laugh at old jokes, too.

But where did you get the weird notion that a nation can be judged by its cocktail crowd?

America has nurtured transplanted roots from every nation in the world. The hungry and the enslaved came here for freedom and opportunity. And I don't think we've let them down.

If you want to know what America is all about visit our farms, factories, schools and museums. Look at our laboratories, our hospitals and our churches. And skip the cocktail parties.

Alarming 'C' Note

Dear Ann: We've been married 12 years and have four little ones. Yesterday I found $100 in an old sock tucked in a shoe box. This is the second time in six months I've found large sums of money in the house. First my husband said he didn't know who it belonged to, then confessed he'd been saving it "to surprise me."

We owe many bills and I've had to borrow from my folks to get groceries because our credit isn't good.

He used to gamble but I believe he doesn't any more. I'm worried sick because I don't know where he's getting the money or what to do about it. Please help me.—LILY.

-:-

Dear Lily: "Hidden money" is usually bad news. Tell him he has one more chance to explain where it came from before you see your clergyman.

Crowning Glory

Dear Ann: Mother and I are arguing about a silly thing. I'm going to be married on Christmas Day. I wear my hair short and close to my head. Mother wants me to let my hair grow about 3 inches so I'll look like "a traditional bride." She says this hair style is masculine and a wedding crown and veil will look terrible.

My fiance doesn't care one way or the other. What is your opinion?—POLLY.

-:-

Dear Polly: It's YOUR hair and YOUR wedding, so the decision should be yours. But I do agree with Mother there's nothing pretty about a bald-headed bride.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stmped, self-addressed envelope.

Bird Man Hired For $4,000 To Chase Starlings From City

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP)—The bird man has returned to this New York suburban community.

He is Otto Standke, 71, a Kansan who chases birds for money. At chasing starlings, he says, he's never failed.

He offered to chase the starlings out of two bird-ridden neighborhoods here for $4,000, and the city officials took him up on it.

But they set a deadline. When it was up, the starlings had left one area but were still in another.

Standke announced he was leaving — in a huff. "Only nincompoops or damn fools would expect me to do the trick in a set, definite period of time," he said.

That was last Friday. Tuesday acting Mayor Irving B. Kendall announced Standke had agreed to return to the job, this time under several deadlines.

He has until Sept. 15 to get rid of all the starlings remaining. On Sept. 27, if there are still no starlings, the city will pay him $1,000. Three months later, if there are still no starlings, he'll get another $1,000. Next August, if they have not returned, he'll get the remaining $2,000.

He goes around banging two pancake turners, at the same time wiggling his neck, to sound a chime he hangs around it.

He hints at a secret weapon against starlings he keeps in a locked box, which he refuses to open where anyone can see him.

He says that if people will leave him alone while he's working, and not follow him around the way they did before, he'll get rid of the birds. City officials agreed to keep crowds away.

Dog Blamed In Mishap

DENVER (AP) — The family dog dragged 11-month-old Stephen Young's stroller into the path of a car Tuesday. The child was critically hurt. Police said the dog, whose leash had been tied to the stroller, was chasing a cat. The child's sister, Linda, 8, had left him while she went to a nearby drugstore.

5 Weir Students Hurt In Car Upset

WEIRTON — Five Weir High School students were injured while en route to morning classes when their auto upset on Pennsylvania Ave., police reported.

Four are in "good" condition at Weirton General Hospital with minor injuries received in the accident shortly before 8.

Those hospitalized include Larry Scott, 16, laceration of the scalp and multiple abrasions; Brenda Casey, 15, possible neck and back injuries; Kay Dearth, 18, small laceration of the forehead and arm abrasions, and Homer Smith, 16, small abrasion of the right ankle.

The auto was operated by Kenneth Dearth, 16, brother of Kay. He was attempting to pass but saw an approaching car, applied his brakes and skidded 150 feet before upsetting in the yard of a nearby resident.

The other car was driven by Robert Rusinovich, 18, of Weirton, who also applied his brakes and skidded off the highway, striking several signs, police said. He suffered only minor injuries.

Dearth's 1956 model sedan was demolished. He was charged with reckless driving and scheduled for a hearing in Municipal Court Thursday.

Gerhard Schwedes, Germanborn halfback who led the Syracuse football team in rushing and passing last season, will be tried out at quarterback during fall drills.

City Driver Involved In Crash At Midland

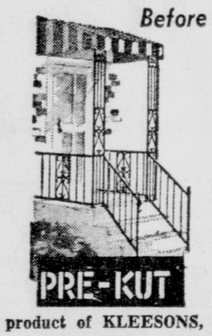

About $100 damage resulted to the car of Helen Holava of Industry R. D. 1 when it was hit by one driven by Charles Holland of Center St., East Liverpool, at Beaver Ave. and 7th St. in Midland, Tuesday at 3 p. m., police reported.

Police said the woman's car was struck while making a right turn at 7th St. onto Beaver Ave. No one was injured and no damage was reported to the Holland car, police said.

Threatens To Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A Teamsters Union local here threatens to strike against five bakery firms if demands for 177 wholesale drivers are not met by midnight tonight. The threatened walkout could tie up deliveries in Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula counties.
